TROOPS FIRE ON RIOTERS IN TOLEDO

National Guardsmen Use Pistols as They Chase People Between Houses and Down Alleys; Strikers Will Consider Peace Proposals This Evening

Two Killed In Yesterday's Clashes

Associated Press
Toledo, May 24.—National guard troops opened fire with pistols at 3 o'clock this afternoon as they pursued a mob of rioters between houses and down alleys on Elm Street near Michigan Street.

A crowd of 2,000 was congregated in the vicinity when the shooting began. The guardsmen also were using gas bombs. The mob was hurling stones, bricks, bottles and other missiles. No one was reported wounded by the bullets immediately.

WORKER RESCUED

Two truckloads of soldiers were dispatched to Jackson Street near the suburban station and the police station to disperse a crowd of 500 which had chased Stephen Kardox, twenty-nine, an Auto-Lite worker, from the riot zone.

Police rescued him after he had been taken to the downtown district. Beaten and stripped after the shooting, Kardox was almost nude when he appeared in the downtown district.

"We're going back to get help and we'll come back here and strip you," he roared at the militia as he was being taken away.

AS BOMBS FIRED

Toledo, Ohio, May 25.—Seven gas bombs were fired at a crowd of 400 persons gathered at Champlain and Elm streets early this afternoon as who national guardsmen sought to break up another recalcitrant group.

The crowd was pushed back by the excessive clouds of gas.

A few members of the group had eluded the guardsmen with stones and bricks.

Guardsmen continued to fire their "knock-out" gas bombs as the rioters took flight. The crowd did not reform immediately after the gas attack, and the situation quieted down at least temporarily.

Meanwhile, announcement was made peace proposals in the strike which caused the rioting would be up for definite action by the strikers at meeting late to-day.

DAIRYMEN OF B.C. WORRIED

Clarification of Marketing Bill on Pooling Plans Is Sought

The position of British Columbia dairy and fruit men in respect to the Dominion government's marketing legislation was laid before the provincial government this morning by E. D. Barrow, M.P.P. for Chilliwack, who sought the co-operation of the B.C. authorities in securing a definite understanding on the marketing bill.

The growers cannot make out yet whether the act will be of any value to them or not in view of the apparent differences of opinion as to whether it will cover pooling.

"It was reported that if the bill did not cover pooling it would be amended so that it would," Mr. Barrow said. "However, no such amendment appears to have been made, and we have not had definite assurances it will. The milk industry particularly is hanging on desperately in the hope this will be done and orderly conditions brought about."

The B.C. government, which has a marketing act of its own, molded on the lines of the federal measure, and designed to detail it, is awaiting the final settlement of the Ottawa bill. It is explained that the provincial measure is so drawn in a general way it will fit in with any changes in the Ottawa act.

Jobless Scot Meets San Franciscan In British Golf Final

James Wallace of Troon to Fight For Amateur Crown and Job Against W. Lawson Little in Thirty-six-hole Final To-morrow; Scot Eliminates U.S. Amateur Champion 2 and 1; Little Beats Garnett on Nineteenth Prestwick, Scotland, May 25.—Before a native gallery of 10,000, James Wallace, unemployed Troon carpenter, with his eye on the job promised him if he wins the British Amateur Golf Championship, qualified for the thirty-six-hole final to-morrow against W. Lawson Little, San Francisco youth, with a 2 and 1 victory over George Dunlap Jr., United States amateur champion, to-day.

Wallace, whose financial circumstances are so lean he lives on the dole, entered the semi-finals with a 3 and 2 victory over Francis Francis, millionaire of Sunningdale.

Little qualified for the championship round by defeating Leslie Garret, London, 1 up on the nineteenth. Dunlap became the fifth Walker Cup golfer to fall before the hammering drives and brilliant putting of Wallace. The others were: H. Chandler Egan, Cyril Tolley, Eric Fiddian and Jack McLean.

DUNLAP UP AT NINTH

Dunlap, who was beaten in the semi-finals of the 1933 championship by Hon. Michael Scott, was out in 35—even par—to be one up. Wallace guarded the match at the tenth and then shot a birdie at the fourteenth to take the lead for the first time. Wallace closed the match at the seventeenth with a birdie three after Dunlap's twelve-footer for a birdie rimmed the cup. Wallace shot phenomenal golf on the last eight holes, (Turn to Page 2, Col. 4)

Paraguayan Forces Flee Into Jungle

Bolivians Reported to Have Gained Big Victory in Chaco War; Paraguayans Killed Stated to Total 6,000

By Jose Garrasco, Associated Press Foreign Staff

La Paz, Bolivia, May 25.—Three divisions of Paraguayan troops were reported in disorderly retreat through the bullet-torn jungle of the Gran Chaco to-day by Bolivian forces in hot pursuit.

The enemy divisions fled, said army dispatches from the battle-front, after a surprise Bolivian counter-attack in which 6,000 Paraguayans were slain and twice that number wounded.

"Up to now," said an army report made public by President Salamanca, our troops have taken fifty officers and more than 1,000 men prisoners. The reports from the front were filled with wild rejoicing in La Paz. The President said it was an occasion for "national jubilee."

The Paraguayan Minister of Defense said Paraguay's troops had lifted the Bolivian attack in the "Andes" and "Strongest" sectors. He said Paraguay's losses were "normal" and Bolivia's "heavy."

Bolivian army dispatches to La Paz on the battle-front yesterday estimated that 6,000 Paraguayans had been slain and at least 12,000 wounded by a strategic Bolivian counter-attack before Fort Ballivian yesterday.

The action was regarded in Bolivia as a master stroke by Col. Bernardino Rios, in command of the Bolivian forces in the "Canada" and "Strongest" sectors.

Later the Bolivian government's information office gave out an additional statement, saying Paraguayan prisoners admitted the magnitude of the disaster.

After an exciting flight from Ireland the two landed yesterday at Cardiff. They are bound for Rome. The flight was started from New York.

Olson had worked all night with conferees to terminate the riotous truck drivers' strike here.

The governor predicted trucks "would be moving some time this afternoon," after conferences during an indefinite time declared following one death and injuries to scores of rioters which marked the eleven-day strike.

Associated Press
Paris, May 25.—Louis Barthou, French Foreign Minister, today officially proclaimed a French policy of "no immediate disarmament of France—no immediate rearmament of Germany."

Plans of the Buddhists were shattered by British immigration authorities, who refused to admit the abbot, once known as Trebitch-Lincoln, said to have been an international spy.

Chao Kung refused to see newspapermen here.

LOW BOND RATE INTERESTS B.C.

Believe Dominion Issue at 3 1/4% Indicates Market Ripening For Refunding

While there was no official comment, provincial finance experts were understood to-day to have been quite interested in the Dominion government's latest loan in the Old Country which was secured at a rate of 3 1/4 per cent.

The loan was a refunding measure for maturing securities.

The province has under contemplation the refunding plan for the entire provincial debt, exclusive of inscribed stock issued in England, and the trend of market events is being closely watched.

While the low rate secured on the Dominion loan is not taken as sufficient indication that conditions are right for the provincial refunding, it is at least a move in the right direction toward lower interest charges on government bonds, it is believed.

No immediate move on the provincial scheme is contemplated.

Attorney-General Orders Exhaustive Move to Solve Disappearance of Two Constables; Bodies May Have Been Thrown in River; Indians Incriminated

Four Indians to-day were held by provincial police at Merritt in connection with the disappearance of two constables yesterday, who, it is believed, were murdered. The missing men are: Provincial Constable Percy Carr and Constable Fred Gisborne of the Dominion Department of Indian Affairs. No trace of the bodies has been found.

After consultation with Colonel J. H. McMillen, commissioner of police, Attorney-General Gordon Sloan this morning ordered the entire resources of the force concentrated towards investigation of the crime.

By airplane, Staff Sergeant Roger Peachey, finger print expert, and Sergeant MacBrayne, both of the criminal investigation department, where they will be joined by Inspector J. F. C. E. Vance and continue on to Nicola Lake to be met by Inspector J. Shirras, of Kamloops, who is conducting the investigation.

CLOTHING STAINED

Evidence incriminating the four suspects was reported to be blood stains on their clothing. One was reported as having a head injury with bloodstained clothing. The suspect was described as having their clothing stained, despite attempts to wash traces of blood off.

The police car, found a short distance from the reservation, was besmeared with blood and fingerprints, and will be examined by Inspector Vance and Sergeant Peachey.

According to the story pieced together by dispatches from the interior, the constables were visiting the Canford reservation, investigating the wounding of an Indian woman, Mrs. Enes Wood, who is now in hospital at Merritt.

One Indian was arrested, and two men were reported to have been taken. It appears then that a struggle took place and practically the whole distance between the car and the reservation was disturbed. It is thought a battle had been waged. One of the men taken from the reserve returned in an hour appearing badly beaten.

The car was found smashed against a tree on top of the Fraser River embankment. From the rear of the car the river's edge is a strip of flattened grass which police believe may have been caused by the dragging of bodies to the water. The river is being carefully watched and dragged for any traces of the men.

ASKS EXPERT AID

In submitting reports of the crime, Inspector Shirras requested special aid from headquarters here, requesting experts and analysts. The reserve is about eleven miles from Merritt.

In the car police found two pairs of closed handcuffs, Constable Carr's baton and one of Constable Gisborne's shoes.

Constable Carr, who served overseas with the P.C.C.I., and was awarded a military medal, is a thoroughly trained member of the force, and has served in many parts of British Columbia since joining in 1918. He has been chiefly concerned with Indian work.

Constable Gisborne has been many years with the Federal Department, and has served with the Nicola agency for some time. Both men are married, Constable Carr having two children.

Ships At Seattle To Load For Alaska

Authorization For Move By Strikers Comes From President of International Longshoremen's Association; More Mills Close

Associated Press
Seattle, May 25.—The authorization of Joseph P. Ryan, president of the International Longshoremen's Association, now in San Francisco, to release all Alaska ships now held up because of the longshoremen's strike, was laid before the strikers here for ratification to-day by Dewey Bennett, secretary of the Seattle union.

"I believe it means everything is all right and that the boys will load the ships and permit them to sail," he said.

Bennett said he believed a meeting of longshoremen Monday at Tacoma to resume discussion of the Alaska ship loading question would probably not be held. The strikers broke up to-day, after a thirteen and a half-hour session in Tacoma, in a deadlock over the problem.

Ryan sent his telegram after Charles A. Reynolds, chairman of the regional labor board, who had flown here from San Francisco in an effort to get the Alaska-continents moving.

Telephoned Ryan in San Francisco yesterday evening. Reynolds left to-day for San Francisco.

GVERNOR'S VIEW

"The action of Ryan means all parties to the San Francisco strike mediation conference are 100 per cent behind our efforts to release Alaska shipping from the strike," said Governor Clarence D. Martin.

J. B. Fitzgerald, of the West Coast Lumbermen's Association, estimated ten mills were closed in the Gray's Harbor area alone because of the strike.

POLICE CALLED TO LONDON RIOT

London, May 25.—Police were called to clear the streets of Bermondsey to-day following disorderly scenes attending a meeting of the dockworkers on strike against the employment of five "white collar" men to work with them.

WHEAT PRICES AT WINNIPEG GO UP

Gains To-day From 2-7-8 to 3 Cts., With May at 73 1-4 and October at 76 1-8

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, May 25.—Traders and speculators raced each other into the wheat pit of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange to-day in the belief bearing suns over the North American farm belt presented a serious crop situation and made the golden cereal a good investment. Under the influx of buying, futures spiraled upwards to finish 2 1/2 to three cents higher.

Final figures represented the day's top levels. May wheat closed at 73 1/4, July at 74 1/4, and October at 76 1/8 cents.

Export houses, commission house traders and speculators all turned to the buying side. Upturns at Chicago and Liverpool added impetus to the bullish sentiment, as reports of damage to germinating crops came in. Cash grains showed their customary indifference, while coarse grain commodities scored fair gains.

Jobless Scot Meets San Franciscan In British Golf Final

among the hardest in Scotland. He played them in three under par.

Little, husky San Francisco youth, gained the final round by defeating Leslie Garnett of London, by one up at the nineteenth hole.

After turning all even, Little, the square-shouldered star from the Pacific Coast, won the twelfth to take the lead, but Garnett wiped out the deficit by winning the next hole.

Little gained the lead at the sixteenth and the Englishman squared the match at the eighteenth.

RIMMED CUP
Garnett sank a great sixteen-foot putt for his birdie three at the home hole. Little alighted his eight-foot putt carefully, the ball held the line to the hole for half the distance and then curved away.

Amid almost tomb-like silence, the match was decided on the nineteenth hole. It dwindled down to a matter of Little having to sink a yard-long putt and Garnett one of only two feet. Little made his easily, while Garnett's rimmed the cup, missing his first short putt of the round.

Little jubilantly ran to the clubhouse after the match.

The long third was halved with five. Dunlap chipped dead from the edge of the green to gain a half in four at the fourth. The short fifth was an easy par three for both. Dunlap remaining one up.

Putting sensationally, Dunlap holed a sixteen-footer for a birdie three to become two up at the sixth. They divided the seventh in fours.

Dunlap's approach to the eighth green was sharp. He chipped up well, but missed a five-foot putt and took a five, to be only one up.

The New Yorker drove into a bunker at the ninth, but made a neat recovery for a half in five.

The cards:
Dunlap, out: ..... 425433445-35

At the 505-yard third Garnett missed a ten-foot putt for his four and Little went one up.

They reached the fourth green in two shots each, but Little's approach putt was eight feet short, taking a five to Garnett's steady four.

On the fifth green, Little approached to within twelve feet of the cup and negotiated it with ease, winning birdie three to Garnett's four.

They halved the sixth, Little continuing to lead by one hole.

At the seventh Garnett dropped a four-footer for his four while Little, well on his second, required two putts to halve the hole.

Garnett and Little banged out 350-yard drives from the eighth tee. Garnett rimmed the cup with a brilliant approach and half in four after Little missed a short putt.

Playing the ninth, Little sliced his drive into the rough and played his second shot into the rough, but Garnett topped his second into a trap and barely recovered. They halved the hole in sizes.

At the tenth they both hit 250-yard tee shots. Little smashed a long brace shot into the rough, but Garnett topped his second into a trap and barely recovered. They halved the hole in sizes.

At the eleventh they laid their approach putts stiff, halving the hole in fours. Little now being dormie.

Garnett squared the match again at the eighteenth by sinking an eighteen-foot putt for a birdie three. They both got home with their second shots, but Little's putt for a four while Garnett's rimmed the cup to close the hole and the match.

Ships At Seattle To Load For Alaska

The Elliott Bay Mill Company in Seattle, large fir plywood operator, closed its doors, throwing 300 men out of work because of inability to move its products.

The Aircraft Plywood Corporation, another major unit in the industry, said if the strike was not settled in a week, a shutdown would be necessary, resulting in the discharge of 300 men here.

Associated Press
San Francisco, May 25.—Faced by threats of a "fight to the finish" in the U.S. Pacific Coast marine workers' strike, a federal mediation board recommended efforts here to-day to bring about a settlement.

Joseph P. Ryan, president of the International Longshoremen's Association, taking a hand.

Ryan said recognition of the I.L.A. appeared the main issue.

Threat of a "finish fight" came from a meeting of San Francisco locals of the longshoremen's union which adopted a resolution to drop all negotiations unless demands for complete union recognition and control of hiring halls were met by Saturday.

The strike, which began May 9, now involves approximately 25,000 ship and waterfront workers along the Coast.

WHEAT PRICES AT WINNIPEG GO UP

CROP REPORT
Winnipeg, May 25.—Exceptional power of recuperation which crops can muster was shown during the last week, as many districts apprehensive of the outcome a week ago are more optimistic to-day, according to the weekly crop report of the Canadian National Railways issued to-day.

Southern Manitoba received good showers and early sown grains are nicely above ground. In northern areas rain has ended soil-dripping and wheat is in a healthy condition.

RAIN NEEDED
Along the Lampman, Gravelbourg and Bengough subdivisions in Saskatchewan, soil drifting has damaged crops already up. More rain is needed, conditions are better than at this time last year.

In the Prince Albert division cool weather with moisture varying from heavy rains to light showers has hastened growth.

In Alberta, in south central districts, rains are responding quickly to recent good weather. Grasshoppers are hatching fast and control measures are being employed. North central Alberta conditions are good. In the Peace River district wheat is growing well.

FRENCH DECLARE ARMS POSITION

Agalaxy of French military chiefs, including War Minister Petain, Air Minister Delamare and Naval Minister Pietri are expected to accompany M. Barthou to Geneva next week to back up the French demand for a showdown on the question of armaments.

AGAINST BRITISH PLAN
M. Barthou openly declared his opposition to the British proposal of "partial" rearmament for Germany and the disarmament of France.

He said: "Believing in the policy of saying yes when you mean yes and no when you mean no, France believes that its proposal is not acceptable."

"France is for disarmament with security, but security is only possible if we take into account semi-military formations."

The Minister denied, however, he believed war was on the way.

"If we seek a disarmament convention in order to re-arm Germany," the League of Nations remains the sole safeguard of world peace. A solution is possible outside the League."

Paris, May 25.—Louis Barthou, Foreign Secretary, to-day pledged a strong stand on the question of clashes on the German border.

He was being questioned on the subject of foreign affairs in the Chamber of Deputies.

One deputy mentioned the arrest at Kehl, Germany, of a French railroad fireman May 16, allegedly for criticizing the Hitler regime.

M. Barthou declared: "I promise the government will act with all the energy you wish!"

He said the French embassy at Berlin already had made representations to the German government concerning the Kehl incident.

sumably, the Japanese, French and Italian ambassadors, to inquire of their governments what steps they were willing to take looking forward to the preliminary preparations for the conference.

The United States ambassador's instructions regarding Washington's attitude were in answer to this invitation.

NO CONFERENCE AT PRESENT
It was said authoritatively no actual meeting of representatives of the big naval powers is at present contemplated.

The present naval treaty which Great Britain, the United States and Japan agreed they would hold the navies to 5-5-3 ratio, can be terminated in 1936.

JAPAN ACCEPTS
Tokyo, May 25.—The Japanese government has understood to-day it has accepted a British invitation to carry on diplomatic talks with the United States and Great Britain separately preliminary to the 1935 naval conference.

High Foreign Office authorities said Ambassador Matsudaira, who represents Japan in London, was invited by Sir John Simon, British Foreign Secretary, to ask his government whether it would enter into preliminary talks on the subject of disarmament.

The Japanese government, said Foreign Office spokesman to-day, expects Ambassador Hiroshi Satou to confer with Secretary of State Cordell Hull and other United States government officials on naval problems before returning to Japan late in June.

TROOPS FIRE ON RIOTERS IN TOLEDO

plant of the Electric Auto-Lite Company by noon to-day to re-open the bombardment of the building, and troops which yesterday cost the lives of two men.

The report of a detective agency employed by the Electric Auto-Lite Company, made public by J. Arthur Guadaman, laying a field telephone communication system, made no attempt to break up the crowd as facing bricks and chunks of concrete came hurtling toward the factory building. The crowd's attack was aimless and less spirited than the fighting yesterday.

City police were on watch at train, bus and interurban stations after they said they heard a report of 200 Communists was en route here from Chicago and Detroit to join rioters.

RING OF TROOPS
At noon the guardsmen, now 1,000 strong, deployed a large rectangular formation around the entire sector, a khaki-clad man with rifle and fixed bayonet to every twenty-foot interval.

The private detective agency report further asserted "there is positive evidence dynamite was brought into Toledo yesterday, along with other weapons. Only the fact this appeared to be known to the officials deterred the mob from using it as originally planned."

"Practically every man going through the Central Labor Union headquarters yesterday evening was armed," the report went on, "and the sentiment in that place was more radical than at any time so far."

TWO DEATHS YESTERDAY
To-day's developments followed yesterday's rioting at the Electric Auto-Lite plant, when national guardsmen fought to gain control of the situation, and two men met death through rifle fire. At least 150 others were injured.

The militiamen, 740 strong, repelled brick-throwing strike sympathizers in nine hours of desperate guerrilla warfare.

Hard pressed, the soldiers fired into the jeering rioters yesterday—killing Frank Hubay, twenty-seven, and Steven Cygon, twenty, and wounding several.

The rioters strengthened their forces to 6,000 and returned to battle yesterday evening.

Fifty-three persons were arrested, charged with rioting. Five gained their release on $500 bonds. Quiet was restored shortly after midnight.

Scores of injured—including many women—were included in the casualties. Four more companies of guardsmen, an armored car and trucks loaded with the bombs were ordered into Toledo to tighten the hold of the military authorities.

Officials of the company agreed to shut down the plant to-day and to-morrow. Charles P. Taft, dispatched here by the federal Department of Labor, took the lead in negotiations, which included a resolution of the original demands of the five-week-old strike, which included a 10 per cent pay increase and union recognition.

OUT OF CONTROL
Otto Brach, secretary of the Central Labor Union, declared he "could not do anything to control the boys now."

Prospects for a general strike in Toledo industry grew stronger with the announcement of favorable votes on the proposal by eleven more union groups, bringing to fifty-one the total of such organizations on record for the move.

Military officials undertook an investigation of the fatal rifle fire. The troops had received no order to fire, said Col. William L. Marlin, senior command to Brig.-Gen. L. S. Connolly.

The "protesters" were probably caused some of the soldiers to lose control," he added.

In Washington, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, blamed the strike bloodshed on the management of the Toledo automobile accessory plants.

MURDER CHARGE
A resolution directed to President Roosevelt by the committee of twenty-three of the Central Labor Union declared "murder has been committed in Toledo by Ohio national guardsmen."

Charles P. Taft, Cincinnati attorney, and son of the late President of the United States, headed a group of mediators trying to bring strikers and company officials to common ground.

Coroner Frank Kraft announced a preliminary examination of the body of Hubay led him to believe the wounds were inflicted by shotgun slugs and not rifle bullets.

Some 6,000 persons, mostly men, were in the crowds fired upon by the troops during yesterday. The crowd melted to some 2,000 around the dinner hour. As darkness fell it began to swell again, and soon mounted to more than 6,000 persons. The firing at night began much as did the fatal gunfire in the afternoon. The crowd, cursing and taunting, began to edge in close to the guardsmen and Elm Street outposts of twenty-five guardsmen and their officers.

"What are you doing here? Why don't you go get Dillinger?" was one of the many taunts to the soldiers.

As darkness fell more bricks began to fly. Guardsmen hurled so-called "knockout gas" bombs reported to be much stronger than the ordinary tear gas. The crowd fell back, and actually started scattering.

But more arrivals in the back began to push again toward the outpost. Whistles were flying by the scores. Whether by order or not, the guardsmen fired a volley over the heads of the throng. The response was more bottles and bricks.

Crowded close again, the soldiers opened fire into the crowd—a sharp volley. The ambulances shrieked away through the milky strike sympathizers, and picked up the five casualties.

Then the crowd fell back again. A rumor spread that strikers were going to let's nearby factory to get dynamite. All authorities branded the rumor false and ridiculous.

The guardsmen on all sectors began an intensive tear gas barrage about 9.45, and by 10 p.m. had succeeded in driving the crowd back two blocks distant from the plant in all directions.

BANKS BLAMED IN PULP FIELD

Nova Scotia Premier Says They Could Have Prevented Paper Mill Expansion

Halifax, May 25.—Premier Angus L. Macdonald of Nova Scotia, yesterday evening took issue with Sir Herbert Holt's declaration before the House of Commons committee on banking and commerce that the provincial governments were to blame for not preventing over-expansion of the pulp and paper industry in Canada.

Power to regulate the industry had lain with the banks during the years of expansion, the Premier believed, and they had "failed to exercise that power." Between 1926 and 1932, Premier Macdonald said, companies in which Sir Herbert was interested had received $40,000,000 in loans from the Royal Bank of Canada, of which he is president. "And I have no doubt," he added, "that other banks lent large sums to such companies."

"It seems to me, therefore," the Premier declared, "that the banks in these years had it in their power to prevent over-expansion of the pulp and paper industry, and that they failed to exercise that power, even after making allowance for the fact that a large part of this amount did not represent capital expenditure."

QUOTA SUGGESTION

Sir Herbert's contention, expressed before the committee in Montreal on Wednesday, was that the provincial governments could have halted the expansion which he claimed had brought the pulp and paper business into difficulties. And he asserted they could now help put it back on its feet by establishing quota systems on raw products used.

Premier Macdonald asserted individual provinces could have done little to prevent expansion. "Prevention of over-expansion in an industry so widely spread over Canada as the pulp and paper industry, if it was at all possible," he said, "could have resulted only from joint action by the provinces, and possibly by the Dominion."

"The effort of a single province to prevent over-expansion would not have been effective."

Geneva, May 25.—Canada unconditionally accepted the National League of Nations suggestion of a possible embargo on arms and ammunition for Bolivia and Paraguay, it was announced here yesterday evening.

In addition to Canada, Guatemala, Peru, Panama, Chile, Belgium, Mexico, Argentina, and France all accepted the League plan, Argentina, Peru and Chile with slight reservations.

Liberals Dislike Planned Economy

London, May 25.—"Planned national economy" of a type now being advocated was attacked by Elliott Dodds, editor of The Huddersfield Examiner, in his presidential address to the National League of Young Liberals at Kettering, Northamptonshire.

He declared that such schemes as the Five Year Plan, the Fascist Plan, the Hitler Plan and the Roosevelt Plan involved wholesale interference with liberty.

CAMP WORKS ARE SCORED

Toronto Labor Man Says Relief Workers Made to Build Fortifications

Canadian Press, Kitchener, Ont., May 25.—James P. Marsh of Toronto, officer of Canadian trades and labor organizations, today had charged that men in government work camps were employed by the Department of National Defence at 20 cents a day to construct "military fortifications." Mr. Marsh addressed the annual convention of the Labor Education Association of Ontario here yesterday.

The convention, attended by more than 100 delegates, went on record as favoring work by tender at trade union prices. Mr. Marsh charged that 50,000 men were living in 103 labor camps fitted up for military purposes. He declared tracts of land were being drained, levelled and graded for airplane landing fields and that near Kingston, Ont., permanent buildings were being erected, large enough to accommodate the population of an entire village.

New buildings costing "millions of dollars" were under construction, he said, on the site of the military college at Kingston and the government was contemplating spending "millions more" in Canada for military purposes.

SECURITIES ACT CHANGES IN U.S.

Associated Press, Washington, May 25.—Amendments to the United States Securities Act which big business has denounced as an impediment to recovery had today been approved in principle by House and Senate conferees, thus assuring their final enactment.

At the same time, they threw out the pending Stock Exchange Control Bill amendments intended to make stockholders' protective committees, in connection with which many abuses are charged, subject to government regulation.

The liberalizations deal largely with the sections of the present law relating to recovery of damages for losses resulting from misleading statements or omission to state material facts by the issuer of the security.

Davis was convicted seven times under the California habitual criminal law. Each conviction carries a lifetime imprisonment sentence without possibility of parole. He was convicted also on two kidnapping charges, one of which carries life imprisonment.

MEMORIAL TO SIR A. CURRIE

Canadian Press, Pointe Claire, Que., May 25.—On the exact spot in the field of honor here where Gen. Sir Arthur Currie stood last year to deliver an address during the 1933 commemorative ceremonies, a memorial cross in his honor was unveiled yesterday.

The grey stone cross was unveiled in memory of the man who was commander-in-chief of the Canadian Corps in France and more recently principal of McGill University, by Lieut.-Gen. Sir Archibald Cameron Macdonnell, former commandant of the Royal Military College, Kingston, Ont.

The unveiling ceremony coincided with the annual memorial service of the Quebec division of the Red Cross Fund and was attended by officials of the fund and leading military men and army chaplains.

Sir Archibald, who succeeded Sir Arthur Currie as commander of the First Canadian Division, paid heartfelt tribute to his former chief.

Edmonton, May 25.—H. L. ## SALVATION ARMY RADIO CARS FOR LONDON POLICE

Canadian Press, Winnipeg, May 25.—The Salvation Army units in eastern Canada sent $300,000 in the last two years to assist its institutions in western Canada, said Commissioner James Hay, head of the Salvation Army in Canada, who today is en route east to his home.

The senior Canadian commissioner has just concluded a tour of western Canada. The money which the east had sent had been used in maintaining mission stations and social institutions, he said.

London, May 25.—Alarmed by the increase in crime in the metropolitan area, Scotland Yard yesterday announced inauguration of a system of radio patrol cars, somewhat like that used in many cities in Canada and the United States.

Fifty-two radio-equipped automobiles will cover the area of 700 square miles, with one car assigned to a designated section day and night.

Increase in the activities of "motor thieves, housebreakers and smash-and-grab raiders" brought on the new policy, the announcement said.

AID FROM OTTAWA

THE DETAILS OF THE ARRANGE-ment reached between the Dominion and the province as they were given to The Times by Mr. Pattullo, indicate a marked recession by Mr. Bennett from the stand taken by him in the letter in which he replied to the representations of the provincial Premier. In that communication, it will be recalled, the federal Prime Minister declared his government could not advance the aid required by the province until the provincial administration reduced its deficit by a million dollars, which would have involved the curtailment of certain expenditures believed by it to be imperative.

It was in consequence of that reply that Mr. Pattullo and his colleagues left Ottawa with the impression that their expedition had been almost hopeless. Further consideration by Mr. Bennett, however, convinced him of the desirability of meeting definitely certain pressing provincial needs, covering nearly $8,000,000, in conformity with the list of requirements originally submitted to him, and an additional $2,000,000 to meet a short term obligation maturing in New York in July.

The provincial government on its side intends, in Mr. Pattullo's words, "to hold down our deficit to the smallest possible figure." This is in line with the communication presented to the federal Prime Minister when the British Columbia delegation reached Ottawa. There is every indication that it will be possible to reduce the margin between income and expenditure, since the revenue is increasing substantially beyond the estimate given by Mr. Hart in his last budget statement, which was wisely placed on a very conservative basis. Premier Pattullo points out that apart from the actual condition of the treasury the improvement of business which is noticeable throughout the country is a hopeful augury, although his administration also proposes to keep a wary eye upon expenditures.

The subject of unemployment relief from the Ottawa point of view is on a more indefinite basis, since whatever is done depends upon the extent to which labor is reabsorbed into industry. This process is going on at a more satisfactory rate than that which was evident last year, but it is still a long way from the objective desired for it. Every year sees new recruits to the unemployment ranks, composed largely of young people out of the schools who have reached the employable age and who, for the most part, fill the gaps caused by the improvement of business conditions. This problem will continue to be the most formidable one with which governments will have to deal, for many years, until, in fact, the whole nation concentrates its resources upon opening up the country—most of which is still undeveloped—and finding an outlet for the brain, brawn and energy of its youth.

This need bulked largely in Premier Pattullo's mind in his advocacy of a works programme. It is to be hoped that he was able to impress something of his views upon the federal Prime Minister. Any British Columbia minister can speak feelingly on this question, since a substantial proportion of our outlay on unemployment relief is made necessary by the influx of large numbers of workless people from other parts of Canada who have been drawn to the coast by the more favorable climatic conditions existing here.

In any case, the Premier and the ministers who accompanied him to Ottawa are to be congratulated upon the comparatively successful outcome of their mission, and, particularly, upon having removed all ground for doubt at the federal capital that they were animated by any other purpose than that of honest co-operation with the Dominion in meeting a very difficult situation.

THE MARKETING BILL

ALTHOUGH IT IS GENERALLY AD-mitted that various amendments to the Dominion marketing bill, which has used up a good deal of the time of the House of Commons at Ottawa, have improved it, it still is open to attack because it is objectionable not only in the details of the plan it embodies, but in principle also. As The Winnipeg Free Press points out, the principle of the bill is that selling should be controlled by the state or its agents, which simply means that "controlling" a farmer's sales is, in essence, preventing him from selling—either by explicitly limiting his business or by depressing consumer demand through price-fixing.

Since Parliament has approved the principle of control, however, the Winnipeg daily says the question remains as to whether the bill provides safeguards against dictatorial executive action, preserves the sovereignty of Parliament and protects consumers against exploitation. The measure in its original form did none of these things. As amended by Hon. Robert Weir, the minister in charge of it, says The Free Press, it is still defective. It then goes on to point out the flaws:

The central objection to it, aside from the objection to the principle, is that it gives what amounts to legislative power to an appointed board not responsible to Parliament. It may be said that this has been done before with public advantage. The railway commission is a board of five members, appointed by the government, but there is really no analogy here. The railway commission fixes the price of an essential service. It has that specific job to do and there are rules for its guidance. Parliament, moreover, retains and exercises authority to interfere in its jurisdiction. The proposed Dominion marketing board is not given a specific and circumscribed job. It is given, in one lump, power to direct, curtail and even stop any farmer's sales of anything he grows. There are no rules for its guidance. There is no provision for parliamentary review of its schemes and orders.

Another weakness in the bill is the lack of any clause providing that growers must be consulted before their operations are subjected to control. In view of Mr. Weir's repeated assertion that his bill will "place power in the hands of the farmers," it is difficult to understand his reluctance to specify that the farmers must initiate and approve of any marketing scheme. In response to criticism on this point, he has inserted a clause saying that producers "may" be taken. He informs the House of Commons that no scheme will be put in force unless a majority of producers wish it. There is, however, nothing in the bill, even as amended, which ensures that this democratic procedure will be adopted. The government keeps the right to impose control on producers who do not want it.

Opponents of the objectionable features of the bill argue that it should contain an explicit provision that every marketing scheme must originate in a request from producers, that there should be written into it a mandatory clause specifying that a poll of producers must be taken, and that a majority of, say, two-thirds must give their assent before any scheme becomes effective. A time-limit for every scheme also is another suggestion which ought to be acceptable to the minister. Parliamentary sanction should also be expressly required for every scheme and for all orders of the government restricting imports and exports.

On several occasions the Minister of Agriculture has said that the bill is intended to give the farmers control of their own selling and that they will not be subjected to control without their consent. If this is really meant to be the case, Mr. Weir would be rendering a service to the farmers and the country as a whole if he would rewrite the bill to correspond with his statement, leaving out those provisions which, in operation, might lead to a good deal of trouble, and possibly executive tyranny over the farmers.

WHAT OF OUR TOMATOES?

TOMATO CANNERS IN THIS PROVINCE reduced their pack last fall by twenty-five per cent as compared with the pack of the previous season. According to a report, a further twenty-five per cent reduction in the total pack in this province is intended this season. Where is this going to end? And why is such a heavy reduction in the canning of British Columbia tomatoes being made? Certainly it is not due to any lack of quality nor to any appreciable reduction in the consumption of canned tomatoes.

We have quoted The Kamloops Sentinel, which points out that recently published statistics show an increase in the pack of canned vegetables in all Canada last year over 1932 of twenty-nine per cent. Ontario's increase was forty-four per cent and Quebec's forty-six per cent. British Columbia's showed a decrease of twenty-three per cent.

We hear of large shipments of tomatoes from Quebec coming to this province by way of the Panama Canal. No doubt many of these were put on the market, says The Sentinel, carrying labels of well-known British Columbia firms, and our housewives did not realize they were not buying British Columbia tomatoes. Eastern canneries are also crowding us back on the prairie market.

According to information, apparently authentic, this disturbing situation is entirely the result of the difference in the cost of production. It is explained that one large Canadian company, operating in the eastern provinces and also in British Columbia, has been reducing its British Columbia pack, making up the shortage from its Quebec canneries.

Our Interior contemporary learns that the principal difference in cost is in the wages paid women workers in the canneries. Recently published statistics give thirteen to fourteen cents per hour as the average wage paid in the eastern canneries. In Ontario, the minimum scale varies from eleven to eighteen cents, according to localities, while in Quebec there is no fixed minimum rate. The Sentinel then comments:

"Protest is now being made by our canners against a further increase in the minimum wage to women workers in the canneries, which minimum is to be twenty-seven cents. British Columbia packers say they can not pay this rate and even hold their home markets against the eastern product, and that exporting is out of the question."

"There is no one who would not like to see our women cannery workers receive the higher pay, but the fact of the fixed minimum may result in very much reduced cash revenue for the packing season because of a reduced pack. Is it not possible to have the eastern provinces raise their minimum or to have a standard approaching that of British Columbia brought about through the influence of Ottawa? This is a problem not of our canneries only, but affects box shoo makers, can factories, tomato growers and, indirectly, business generally."

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

A VIOLATED TRADITION.
 The L'Action Catholique, Quebec

In times of moral as well as material crisis it should be possible to regret the disappearance of certain traditions without being denounced as a lover of a day gone by. Why, indeed, should it be forbidden to praise times past for what there was good in them while it is permitted, indeed in opportune, to exalt the progress—the real progress—of the present day? All Christians, conscious of the obligations sprung from their baptism, regret the violation of a tradition formerly considered—until about thirty years ago—as inviolate and sacred: that of Sunday observance. It was industrialization under the banner of economic liberalism that delivered the first and most ruinous blows to a tradition that was not merely Catholic, but Christian, or respect for the Sabbath. We must, indeed, admit to our shame that the Protestant provinces of Canada set an example in this respect to the Catholic province of Quebec.

SMALL INDUSTRIES
 The Le Devoir, Montreal

The Forest Products Commission, appointed by the provincial government, points out that the consumption of charcoal could well be augmented. During summer cooking on charcoal fires could well replace dangerous oil-burning apparatus. The commission also has studied the more extensive use of wood in construction. One might ask why this commission has been appointed, when it might have been at work for twenty-five or fifty years. What a mass of by-products and small industries we might have taken from our forest resources with its help, reducing the fire hazard and cleaning up the insect-breeding places, and putting all the waste to profitable use. Not only in regard to our wood, but in many other of our resources, there is a wealth of profit for small industries in utilizing materials that are going to waste. Perhaps, however, before a wide movement along these lines can be started, we shall have to get rid of the false idea that unless a business is capitalized in terms of millions, it is of no importance.

Twenty-five Years Ago To-day

THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES
 May 25, 1909
 (From The Times Files)

Jockey C. H. Shilling, the star rider at Santa Anita last winter and one of the highest paid riders in the country, arrived in the city this morning, and will ride at the forthcoming meeting at Oak Bay race-track.

The concert given by the Victoria Male Choir in Beacon Hill Park on Sunday afternoon was listened to with pleasure by a large gathering of citizens. Under the able leadership of J. M. Morgan, the choir, which occupied the band stand, rendered a number of choruses in a highly finished manner.

The Victoria Day celebration will close this evening with a band concert, illuminated water carnival and fireworks at the George Park. The B.C. Electric Railway Company is giving four prizes for the best displays in the procession of decorated boats and is also arranging for the pyrotechnic display.

The ladies' golf championship was won Saturday by Miss Violet Pooley at the golf links at Oak Bay from Miss Coombe, whom she defeated four up and two to play. J. Sutherland Matternon yesterday won the men's championship in the finals in the club's tournament at the Oak Bay links by one up from Stanley Carr of Comox, who was runner-up. The game was won after a thirty-nine-hole struggle, but the tussle came over the last half of the number, the first eighteen holes having the players even. The score 76, made by Matternon, is the best ever made in a championship game on the club links.

Robert W. Butler, who operates the little steamer Don, between this city and the islands of the Straits, has for some time been looking for a new craft with more carrying accommodation than the one now in use. In this he has failed, but he is not out of the game, he is now making arrangements to build a steamer for the service.

Victorians turned out in tens of thousands yesterday to observe the popular holiday as they have so often shown that no other city of the empire can. From early morning to long after twilight the city was alive with gay throngs, augmented by hundreds of visitors from Vancouver and points across the line.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By ALINE MICHAELIS

INTO HER HEART

Sometimes for years men tend one garden plot. Breed beauty there in rare exotic flowers. Among the rocks carve out a fern-filled grove. Plant purple hyacinths, trail-filled borders. With patient toil they make the rich earth bloom. And woo its treasures as a lover wooes his bride. They fill their garden's canvas with fair hues. But nature is more patient still than they. She knows each tireless gardener must depart. And when at times command one turns away. She takes his garden back into her heart. How soon the wilful vines run riot there! How soon each rose assumes a wildwood air!

APPRECIATION

To the Editor:—As director of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind on Vancouver Island, I want to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to Mr. Ronald Matthews for his kindness in furnishing me with complimentary tickets for the blind people of Victoria and their guides attend a concert which will be held at the Crystal Garden on June 1.

F. LANDSBERG.

THE WORKER'S CAUSE

To the Editor:—The "Mulligan" in which W. Mulligan and T. Guy Shepherd are at present busily engaged in devouring would seem to indicate two facts. T. Guy Shepherd is championing the cause of the worker, prosperity a worker's job, and W. Mulligan is not.

W. Milligan seems to be either too stupid, too ignorant or too reactionary to understand that strikes are part of the worker's struggle for existence. One can readily imagine that had the longshoremen's strike been the other way round, they would have a lockout instead of a strike, the peace of mind of W. Milligan would in all probability have been at rest.

IMPRESBITUM.

UNWANTED CATS

To the Editor:—My blood boils as I think of such heartless people as the cat-loving woman who was seen last week by a little girl to stop her car at Luxton and drop a poor cat in the gutter.

What does she think is to become of it? But, of course, such a person would not stop to think.

A substantial tax on kittens might do some good. It would at least stop people from keeping them just as playthings for children to pull around and when tired of to turn adrift. People really wanting a pet would be willing to pay the tax and if they cannot afford to do so, they should be willing to sacrifice themselves for the general wellbeing of the animals. Schools could do much by way of inculcating kindness to animals in their teaching. If children are not taught that animals have rights, and to include them in the Golden Rule, what can one expect?

Lots of poor cats and dogs are turned adrift when a merciful death is all they ask for.

Cruel and thoughtless people leave their cats behind when changing houses—

"And so they all and mew all day, In vain to be let in. This treatment is a crime, I say—A cruel and heartless sin."

It is high time something were done to put a stop to such wanton cruelty. If kittens and puppies (unwanted ones) are destroyed, then the same should be done to unwanted dogs. Cannot the S.P.C.A. do something along this line, for, after all, we know "prevention is better than cure." R. R. KNIGHT.
 R. R. No. 1, Luxton, Victoria, May 19, 1934.

FINANCE

To the Editor:—Exceedingly much has been written and spoken of late on social credit, bank credit and other forms of financing to bring about prosperity, but I fail to see in anything I have so far seen or heard that to me seems to be the panacea it is claimed for it.

For years we have financed on borrowed capital which we have bolstered up with high taxation until the whole thing has become an unbearable burden and can no longer be borne.

And still our governments are plunging deeper and deeper into the trough of despair.

Why not stop? Why not try a thing often spoken of but seldom tried?

Let the government issue scrip and more scrip, and still more scrip, if such you may call it. For instance, if our provincial government instead of borrowing from the Dominion to the tune of a cool $10,000,000 would issue sufficient scrip as a medium of exchange on the credit of the province to put all the present unemployed to work (sufficient work could easily be found), the same scrip would be circulated as a medium of exchange, and as soon as all now unemployed would be earning good money or good scrip or good means of exchange, prosperity would be at hand.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED
CARE OF FOOD IS HOT WEATHER PROBLEM

The preservation of food in hot weather is no simple problem. It is essential that food be kept at a low temperature. Many housewives do not maintain a temperature low enough to prevent food spoilage.

The observation of some simple precautions assures the mother that she is safeguarding the health of her children.

KEEP MILK COLD
Boil all milk for summer use. Boil it briskly for three minutes, pour it into a sterile glass jar, stand the jar in warm water to prevent breakage, and allow cold water from the faucet to pour over the jar until the milk is cold. Then put this in the coldest place in the icebox and leave it there until ready to use for baby's bottle.

Cereals should be prepared fresh each day. Cereal kept for any length of time is not only unappetizing, but it is so easy to prepare fresh that there seems no excuse for holding it from one day to another. It is also well to look at all packaged cereals carefully to note the presence of any "wrinklers" in them. Cereal should be kept in a cool place to prevent spoiling.

Cooked vegetables can be kept for two days in a well-iced refrigerator. Bring left-over vegetables to babies to a boil the second day before serving. Left-over soups should be treated the same way.

COOKED FRUITS
Fruits should be served cooked to children if there is the least suspicion of their being over-ripe. Fruit juices and sound ripe fruits that are washed and peeled can be served raw, but cooking fruits in very hot weather is a sensible precaution.

Mixtures of milk and egg, such as custards either boiled or baked, should not be kept over until the second day. This is also true of gelatin. Both of these foods should be freshly prepared and when put into the icebox should be kept covered. This is no reflection upon the essential goodness of these foods, but merely a recognition of the ease with which bacteria increase and multiply in them.

Some of these warnings may seem far-fetched. But intestinal ailments from spoiled food result from failure to respect these precautions. The avoidance of summer complaint is merely a prevention of deterioration of milk, meat, fruit or any combinations of cooked foods.

To-morrow: "Teach Child Caution. Not Fear."

IT'S LIVER THAT MAKES YOU FEEL SO WRETCHED

Wake Up Your Liver Bile and Get A New Lease of Life. No Calomel Is Necessary.

For you to feel healthy and happy, your liver must pour two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels, every day of your life. Without that bile, trouble starts promptly. Your food just won't digest the way it should, and your bowels are sluggish. Food poisons inside you and your entire system is undermined by this poisonous waste matter. You have indigestion—the discomfort of gas, bloating, heartburn and sourness. You are prone to headaches. Her tongue like cotton-wool, a nasty taste in your mouth, bad breath and ugly skin. You haven't anything like the pep a healthy person should have. In fact you are generally wretched.

How can you expect to clear up a condition like this completely by taking more bowel-movers like calomel, mineral water, oil, laxative candy, or anything else, or roughage? They can't wake up your liver bile!

Avoid calomel (mercury). Buy yourself a box of old reliable Carter's Little Liver Pills. All ailments, sure, get better. They'll wake up your liver without upsetting you. Bring back the old-to-be alive feeling, once more.

Don't waste your money on substitutes. Be definite. Ask for Carter's by name and get them. Look for the name, Carter's, on the red label, also at all drug stores.

LONDON STAGES BLACK WEDDING

And Canadian Girl Is the Bride in Unusually Costumed Ceremony

London, May 23.—And now the all-black wedding.

People passing Chelsea Register Office the other day were surprised to see a wedding in progress in which both the bride and bridegroom and most of the guests wore black shirts.

The explanation was a simple one. It was not a case of pessimism carried to extremes. Both the parties belonged to the British Union of Fascists.

Miss Edith Mary Bowers-Hill, the bride, who hailed from Montreal, wore a short grey flannel skirt and the regulation shirt of the Fascist organization. The bridegroom, Richard Charles O'Hagan, a son of Henry Osborne O'Hagan, the barrister, wore the blackshirt uniform.

Mr. O'Hagan is only twenty-two, but he has already acted as the Canadian representative of the British Union of Fascists.

A black shirted bodyguard from the Fascist Headquarters in Chelsea attended the wedding and gave the Fascist salute as the young couple left the Register Office.

They are spending their honeymoon in Rome, and hope to pay their respects to Signor Mussolini, the author of the movement, before they leave.

WILL DEVELOP EMPIRE STUDY

National I.O.D.E. to Hear Reports of Widening Activities at Annual Meeting

Canadian Press
Toronto, May 25.—Having in view the more general development of study and knowledge of empire affairs throughout Canada, the National Chapter Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, will hear the report of their sub-committee at the thirty-fourth annual meeting of the chapter, to be held here May 27-June 2 next. Mrs. James Ince of Toronto, national president, will take the chair.

Work of the war memorials and bursaries for the children of Canadian soldiers who died in the war, an important department of the organization's work will be discussed and reports received from the committees on education, work in India, films and other activities of the order. The meeting will have reports from the provincial chapters and deal generally with the work all over Canada during the past year.

An interesting feature will be the presentation of an I.O.D.E. prize annual play to be given after the annual banquet, May 30. This play, "The Whirl of Wings," was written by Miss Mary W. Brooks of Montreal and won the $100 prize in 1932. In 1933 this contest was established by the order and the prize for the best one-act play was given yearly by Foch's Macintosh of Montreal in memory of his wife.

Greater attention has been given by Canadian magazines to Canadian stories and plays since the inauguration of the order's one-act plays and short-story contests.

Just because she is afraid, June Grabiner, above, will not sparkle in the films. That is the reason the winsome daughter of Harry Grabiner, secretary of the Chicago White Sox baseball club, gave for refusing an offer of a contract to play feature roles on the screen.

McBRIDE-MURRAY

The bridesmaid, Miss Margaret Dyke, wore a pale pink point d'esprit dress made on colonial lines and a hat of pink chip straw.

ENGLISH CHOIR BOYS IN U.S.

Think Its Roast Beef Is "Lousy," But Comics "Swell"

Canadian Press
Baltimore, Md., May 25.—Bubble and squeak and kidney pie are jolly well superior to hamburgers and hot dogs, the English boy choristers, who have been singing in Baltimore churches, suggested.

The youthful English choristers—all twelve of them—had quite a few grievances against America, in fact. The hotels and trains are too hot and the coffee and tea, to quote their newly-acquired American phraseology (of which they are very proud) are "lousy." But "the American funny papers and the American murder stories (twenty-four English eyes raised in dignified ecstasy) are swell."

Peter Froom, aged twelve, desired to talk seriously of differences in the Anglo-American arts. "Sir," he said very politely, "you will find that Dick Tracy, Toots and Casper and Popeye the Sailor are much better than the English comics. Your pea soup, too, is finer than the English brand. But as for roast beef—a scream of derision arose from the assembled company—"American roast beef is lousy," they exclaimed in unison.

Pupils' Recital Much Enjoyed

A delightful concert was given Wednesday evening at the New Thought Hall by the pupils of Mrs. E. S. Foot. Antoni Sobieralski was featured in violin and viola solos, assisted by Billy and Kathleen Sobieralski in cello and piano solos, and an all-string orchestra.

Antoni Sobieralski played exceptionally well on both instruments, showing good technique and tone production. His two outstanding numbers were Beethoven's "Sonata in A-flat" and Schubert's "Serenade" (transcribed by Hemenyff), the latter featured by faultless double-stopping. Other violin solos included "Spanish Dance" and "Serenata" by Moszkowsky, and "Souvenir" by Drlia. The viola solos were Kalliwoda's "Nocturne" and Raff's "Cavatina."

Another outstanding number was a violin duet by Antoni Sobieralski and Donald Wood, who played "Concerto No. 3," Bach, and "Ave Maria," Schubert. All numbers were well received by the large audience. Members of the orchestra were: Frances Farquhar, Marion Plumb, Donald Wood, Kathleen, Antoni and Billy Sobieralski, Esther and Douglas Dicker, Tom and David Anstey, Robin Wood and Wesley Marshall.

WOULD TEACH BIRTH CONTROL

Episcopal Minister Advocates Pre-marital Instruction at Church Conference

Associated Press
Kansas City, May 24.—Birth control knowledge should be given every young married couple. Very Rev. Vesper O. Ward, Fairbault, Minn., said in an address on "The Technique of Pre-marital Instruction" yesterday at the Episcopal social work conference. "I advise young people to become parents comparatively early in their married life," he said. "Children should come at intervals of not more than three years. To accomplish this, ideal parents must have safe and scientific knowledge as to how to space births of children."

"The most acute problem confronting Christian married folk is how to manage sex life when they recognize that because of poverty or communicable disease, they have no moral or social right to bring children into the world; or when they already have as many children as they can rear with due regard to family decency and health."

Woolworth Princess Still Honeymooning

London, May 25.—Princess Alexis Mdivani and his wife, formerly Miss Barbara Hutton, the Woolworth heiress, have been staying a few days in London before continuing their honeymoon tour of the world. On Tuesday they flew to Paris after a "lovely and peaceful week-end" to quote the Princess's words.

Miss Suzanne Platt, a Mayfair mannequin and dress designer, is to marry Signor Agostino Lanfranchi, the Italian speedboat pilot, who is well known in this country.

Marion Talley Rid Of Mama Complex

New York, May 25.—Marion Talley's arrival in New York, unaccompanied by Mama and Sister Florence, revealed that she no longer is the same prim little prima donna, a subject of parental prompting. And by this time, she is well launched on her western tour, traveling alone, doing much as she pleases, never basking in a biscuit or milking a single Kansas cow.

But it was only a few years ago that Marion and Mama called on Mile. Sembrich, the voice teacher, with the idea of engaging her as a coach. To judge Miss Talley's voice the teacher suggested trilling a few scales. "My dear madame," interrupted Mama. "I must remind you that my daughter is no longer in the habit of singing mere scales!"

And next day it was announced that the Talleys were unable to find a competent voice teacher in New York.

THE Lone Wolf's Son

By Louis Joseph Vance

But where had she fled in such panic? And why? Had she mistaken the voice at the door for that, perhaps, of some enemy in this strange American mob-world, some one at whose hands she had more than a right to apprehend?

The question went on gnawing, as it does, as a growing tooth: Where had she gone to call for help? But she could so readily have done that by telephone!

To some other apartment, then? Some friend's, in the building? If so, where?

There were, on the stand by the bed, two French-type telephones. One had on its base a dial device for calling outside numbers. The other was without a dial and carried a card with the legend "Ex. 31-B." To this last Lanyard applied himself. A feminine voice brightly responded and asked:

"Order, please?"

"Tell me something, Mr. Frederick Lequith has an apartment in this building, hasn't he?"

"He certainly has—all the thirty-second floor, right over your head. Wait a minute! I'll connect you."

"Never mind—I only wanted to be sure—thank you."

Lanyard hung up. One question, at all events, had been answered.

But if the Boyce had gone to call on Lequith for assistance, what chance had Lanyard of escaping from this trap into which he had walked uninvited? A trap, moreover, from which he had no mind to try to escape unless and until he found out what he had braved it to find.

He tried the other telephone, dialing the number of Crane's hide-away, but got no response other than a broken, muted trilling, the signal for a call that is not completed.

Then he visited the outer doors of the apartment again and thoughtfully set their chain-bolts; he wasn't of any mind to be taken by surprise if, as he suspected, this delay meant that Lequith and the Boyce were waiting for reinforcements from the mob-world to arrive.

The outraged Jap was still giving muffled yelps from time to time and pummeling the door of the foyer-closet; but Lanyard, pitiless, merely stopped at the radio set in the drawing-room and adjusted the volume control till the music was loud enough to override the racket. It was while he was thus engaged that he grew sensible again to the creak of the door, saw how the curtains were bellying in at long glass doors that opened on the terrace, and for the first time bethought him that the woman might possibly have taken to that refuge.

If so, she had, in all probability, been watching his every movement.

CHAPTER XI

In some chagrin Lanyard crossed to the window doors. Black night pricked with a myriad of man-made stars met and defeated eyes keyed to indoor illumination. He pushed the wings farther apart and stepped out. But the dusky terrace with its array of outdoor furniture and plants in tubs crowded all deserted. He lost a minute there, less in disappointment or disconcertation than in marvelling on the sight that opened beyond the ruled black lip of the parapet, the spangled spread of urban night, patterned in lights like a vast shield, infernally lurid at its midtown boss with lines of fading gleam radiating in untraceable confusion to the far shimmer of its broken silver rim. And to every light that burned below, a hundred hearts that beat in love and sorrow, despair and hope.

And somewhere near one of them, his son and, perhaps, Fenno.

With a gesture of frustration Lanyard turned back, only halting to heart in your mouth any more, ducky—I'm down, safe and sound."

"And the emeralds?"

The woman in a twinkling located the shagreen case, and in one swift swoop possessed herself of it.

"O.K.," she said, looking at the man above—cutting a slightly shape against the murk, alluring and well aware of it, with the lamplight from indoors softening the garish scheme of a cynically indifferent negligence.

But as Lanyard viewed her, it was all beauty and diabolism, no better. And when he heard what she said next, he told himself he could have throttled her where she stood without one qualm of conscience.

"Fair enough," Lequith called down. "But cut out that show-girl stuff now, gorgeous; keep it for tomorrow, when this mess is all cleared up and everybody's happy but the families of the candidates for premature decease. Get busy with the wires—give Ladore a buzz and tell him to stand prepared to pay up like a prince first thing in the morning and take his old emeralds. What becomes of them after that's his business, tell him; anyway, so far as we're concerned, it's nobody's."

"Listen," those kids are going to take a ride so long that they won't know where they are when it's over, by—o!"

Lequith must have retreated from the parapet at once, for the woman barely sketched a farewell wave to him, and smiling contentedly to herself as she hugged the jewel-case to her bosom, went on into her own quarters.

The filmy train of her negligee, sweeping the tiles, had yet to follow her when Lanyard stepped aside to the foot of the ladder and started to warm up it.

Still on its rung, he warily halted. Most level with the ledge, to spy out the lay of the upper story.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel"

SATURDAY, MAY 26, 1934

Adverse planetary aspects are active to-day, which will be more fortunate for recreation than for business. The early hour favor workers.

Discontent and unrest are believed to be prevalent under this planetary government, which encourages self-pity.

Lack of peace is evident in many classes of men and women, who may be inclined to view weariness from long waiting for a change.

Both men and women should discipline thoughts and interest in unselfish service of some sort, astrologers declare. Through the recognition of the universal relation of human beings and the responsibilities pertaining to them real progress is assured.

Crime is likely to be even more prevalent in the summer than it has been and the stars are to be trusted a crisis involving drastic policies on the part of the federal government is possible before the autumn.

This is a day when the young may be tempted to wander. Outdoor exercise is subject to a good direction of greatest interest in sports.

Use of the word "revolution" with reckless frequency is due to the stars declare, to the malefic influence of last month's conjunction of Uranus.

Some misfortune of wide significance is foreboded for the Orient, where there may be an earthquake disaster that will interfere with warlike controversies.

Invasion of Peiping by Japan long has been prognosticated as a possibility of the future, but the stars seem to discern many unusual and sudden events that may change policies.

Persons whose birthday it is have the augury of a year of disturbing or unstable experience. Journeys are probable and there may be much good luck.

Children born on this day probably will be ambitious and curious. Subjects of this sign usually have imagination and executive ability and are capable of tremendous self-control.

Queen Mary, English sovereign, was born on this day. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include Nicholas Louis of the Russian Empire, Moravian missionary, Rev. W. Chambers, novelist, and Edgar Fawcett, author 1847.

FINANCE

would no longer be away around the corner, but right here on our front doorstep.

And as the province could meet the bulk of their obligations by this new-found medium of exchange, they could return to the municipalities the funds of which they have ruthlessly been deprived, and furthermore they could be further assisted to the extent that the municipalities could reduce their taxation and make it possible for its citizens to meet their tax bills, and as all benevolent would be met there would be a much greater demand for goods, and a much greater consumption all round.

The banking system may not be just what it might be, but here in Canada I do not think that the bankers are as bad as some picture them to be. Perhaps they have not had the chance that bankers have had south of the line. Opportunity is the great test.

While a large foreign trade is a very desirable thing, yet that alone will not bring the results desired. It would rather be a result of prosperity than the cause. The fountain of prosperity lies with the government. It is the duty of government to create conditions that every one may be able to provide himself with food, fuel, shelter and clothing, and becoming a charge on his fellow man. And the conditions now existing are such that I see no other way out but by the government leaving scrip and more scrip as a medium of exchange.

THE MERCIFUL WAY

To the Editor:—There is a day that comes to many of us when we have to take the responsibility of sending a canine friend to the happy hunting grounds for one reason or another. The difficulty is to know what method to employ in order that the journey may be swift and painless. Often the most kindly-hearted people, through ignorance and inexperience, bungler it rather badly.

As the writer has had to face this situation more than once and has had people come to him for assistance and advice on the subject, the following remarks, the result of information and observation obtained over a considerable period of time, may be welcomed by many:

Shooting is instantaneous when carried out by an expert, but such experts are few and far between. Good shot is not necessarily an expert in such matters. The writer has been present at several such executions that were unintentionally distressing to the executioner. This need not be. Lethal chambers, no matter what their design and whatever gas or mixture of gases may be used are not all that many people suppose them to be. A lethal chamber death is not an easy one, as experience and statistics from many different and reliable sources plainly indicate.

Electrocution is instantaneous when scientifically carried out. The preparation, however, often entails unavoidable brutality and suffering. This is the method frequently employed at city pounds. And here let a word be said on behalf of that often much-misused and misunderstood individual, the poundkeeper. It would seem that the average poundkeeper is as considerate and humane in his methods of destroying the unfortunate animals under his charge as the circumstances and equipment at his disposal will allow.

Poisoning is the refuge of the coward, the bungler and the unthinking. The trouble is that poisons of all kinds are so easy to obtain. The obliging druggist makes no difficulty about supplying any one he knows. The belief that poisons are easy to administer either in food or indirectly is quite wrong. So is the belief that some of the most powerful poisons do not cause suffering. And this is likely to be prolonged when administered by the inexperienced.

Drowning comes under much the same category as poisoning. It is crude and cruel.

The direct administration of chloroform, except in emergencies as in the case of a badly injured animal, is not recommended. It is not easy to administer and there is always a struggle.

The easiest, surest and most humane method for the animal—and the owner, too, for that matter—is

HOW ABOUT MACARONI SALAD FOR A CHANGE?

By MARY E. DAGUE

A brand new use for macaroni is in salad. One of my Italian friends groans at the idea but that is because he is too steeped in tradition to be able to support the thought of his favorite paste served anyway except hot and dripping with sauce of one kind or another. For spring, I am sure you will really like macaroni salad—so wide of my Italian friend if he could be induced to try it.

Perhaps the most important step in the making of successful macaroni salads lies in the cooking. Each piece must be firm and smooth, tender but not soft or sticky. The best way to cook macaroni is to drop it into plenty of boiling water—three parts of water and 1 tablespoon salt to two cups macaroni are good proportions—and boil until tender, about twenty minutes. Drain well and rinse with cold water. Drain thoroughly and chill. Have all the other materials cold.

MACARONI HAM SALAD

This salad is particularly good served on a bed of shredded cabbage.

One cup cooked and chilled macaroni, 1 cup chopped cold boiled ham, 1 tablespoon prepared horseradish, 2 pimientos, 1 cup salad dressing (mayonaisse or cooked dressing), shredded cabbage.

Mix horseradish and ham thoroughly and combine lightly with macaroni and pimientos which have been cut in shreds. Moisten with dressing and serve on a bed of shredded crisp cabbage.

MACARONI EGG SALAD

This is another substantial salad. One cup cooked macaroni, 2 hard cooked eggs, 1/2 cup diced celery, 4 tablespoons sliced stuffed olives, salad dressing, shredded leaf lettuce.

Chop eggs coarsely and combine with macaroni, celery and olives. Add salad dressing to make moist and serve on a bed of shredded leaf lettuce. Garnish with halves of stuffed olives. It is better to use the olives stuffed with pimientos rather than those stuffed with celery or nuts because the red of the pimiento makes an attractive touch of color.

MACARONI FRUIT SALAD

One cup cooked macaroni, 1 cup diced pineapple, 2 bananas thinly sliced and marinated in lemon juice, 1 cup whipping cream, 1/2 cup orange juice, 1/2 cup lemon juice, 1-3 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 1/4 teaspoon salt.

It is a good idea to dice the pineapple several hours before you want to make your salad. Sprinkle with sugar and the juice in place of orange juice to make the dressing. If you do use pineapple juice bring it to the boiling point before you make the dressing.

Mix sugar and cornstarch and stir into boiling pineapple juice. Cook, stirring occasionally, in double boiler for twenty minutes. Add lemon juice and let cool. When ready to use fold in cream whipped until firm with salt. Add macaroni, pineapple and bananas to dressing and serve on tender leaves of head lettuce with a garnish or halves of fresh strawberries or marionberry cherries. A cube of bright jelly will also serve as an attractive garnish.

TO-MORROW'S MENU

Breakfast: Fresh apricots, cereal, cream, baked French toast, syrup, milk, coffee.
Luncheon: Cheese fondue, creamed celery, sliced tomatoes, kielbasa pudding, milk, tea.
Dinner: Planked ham and eggs, spinach with Hollandaise sauce, macaroni fruit salad, toasted crackers with cheese, milk, coffee.

UNCERTAINTY IN BULGARIA

"Mysterious Quiet" Reported in Macedonia, Where Revolutionaries Active

By Wade Werner, Associated Press

Sofia, Bulgaria, May 25.—A mysterious quiet hangs to-day over most districts of Bulgarian Macedonia, scene of startling rumors since the coup d'etat of last week-end.

One of the first acts of the new military dictatorship of Premier Kimon Gueorguev was to partition this stronghold of the dread Inner Macedonian revolutionary organization, the Imro, between two provinces, Sofia and Plovdiv, just as though the Imro and "King" Ivan Mihailoff did not exist.

Mihailoff is leader of the independence movement in Macedonia, which is divided among Bulgaria, Greece and Yugoslavia.

Rumors of armed conflict between Mihailoff's men and Bulgarian government troops soon filled the air after the partition of Bulgaria's Macedonia territory.

But, in a motor tour through the heart of "King" Ivan's country, this correspondent failed to find any evidence of actual fighting.

TRAIN DERAILED AT BLUE RIVER

Canadian Press

Vancouver, May 25.—Eight cars on an eastbound Canadian National Railways freight train were derailed just east of Blue River, B.C., yesterday evening and, in consequence, the transcontinental train due here today was reported twelve hours late.

But, in a motor tour through the heart of "King" Ivan's country, this correspondent failed to find any evidence of actual fighting.

LOLONE WOLF MOVIE STARS

Successful Players Employ Long String of Aids to Look After Affairs

Hollywood, May 25.—A motion picture star cannot be a lone wolf. He is too much to the job for one person to go it alone. That may sound a bit ridiculous, but it is true. There is a deal more to this business of making a film than simply going through a few antics before the camera. Consequently, those who have made fame through the silver screen employ others to do the things they haven't time to look after, themselves. Just how many employees must be attached to each star's payroll depends largely on the star's business interests and the degree of lavishness in which he desires to live. Carl Brisson, for example, has fifty persons working for him in this country and in Europe. He heads the list in an employment standpoint. Having rather extensive business interests on both sides of the Atlantic, he needs a lot of help to conduct his affairs. A corporation within itself, he has eleven on his payroll. His business manager is a household name, Miriam Hopkins and Kiki Carls have a like number. Mae West has seven employees. Gary Cooper employs six. Richard Arlen and W. C. Fields employ five each. The number employed by Marlene Dietrich varies from five to eight, depending upon the number of films she is making.

Team From D Company of 16th Carried Off May Day Shield From 11th C.M.G.C.

For the first time since its presentation ten years ago by the Victoria May Festival Celebration Committee, the May Day Shield for machine gun competition was yesterday afternoon left in the hands of the 11th Battalion, C.M.G.C., and went to rest in the D company room of the First Battalion, 16th Canadian Scottish. Teams for the competition consisted of an officer, a sergeant and three other ranks. Points are awarded for the appearance of the men and the condition of the equipment. The guns are stripped, and have to be assembled, filled with water and carried forward. Twenty-five rounds of ammunition are loaded into a belt. Fire is then applied on a landscape target, a fire control order having been previously given by the section sergeant. Points are awarded for the time taken and for the number of hits inside a four-inch square. The Canadian Scottish team was made up of Lieut. J. Rockingham, Sergeant S. H. Henderson, Corporal J. C. Stanners and Privates E. G. Earl and P. M. Inglis. Seventeen hits were registered, and the time taken was two minutes exactly. Total marks were ninety-one, against seventy-eight and seventy-two for the two C.M.G.C. squads. The 11th teams were headed by Lieut. A. B. Gray and H. Buss. The competition was judged by Colonel T. S. Ten Broeke and Sergeant Major G. C. White. Major P. V. Longstaff acted as timekeeper.

Britain Celebrates "Empire Air Day"

King and Queen Witness Display; Air Defence Is Minister's Theme; Premier Bennett Speaks From Ottawa

London, May 25.—The United Kingdom, led by the King and Queen, yesterday celebrated the nation's first "Empire Air Day," by flocking to airports in all parts of the country. Their Majesties motored from Sandringham with Lord Londonderry, Secretary for Air, to the Royal Air Force field at Bircham, in Norfolk, to witness the Empire Air Day flying display.

Royal Air Force and civil airports throughout the country were thrown open to the public, and thousands of persons went to see exhibitions of formation flying, flight attacks and bombing practice. The Diana, the fastest air liner in the world, left Croydon with a party on a 1,100-mile circular tour of the United Kingdom and Northern Ireland, making stops at numerous airports, including those of Belfast and Glasgow.

In London the Duke of Connaught, former Governor-General of Canada, unveiled a national memorial to the Earl of Meath, founder of Empire Day, at the Lancaster Gate in Hyde Park. The unveiling took place after a church service at which Most Rev. Cosmo Gordon Lang, Archbishop of Canterbury; Most Rev. John A. Fitzgerald, Archbishop of Dublin; and Rt. Rev. Arthur Poley, Bishop of London, participated.

Lord Londonderry, Secretary for Air, yesterday evening told the Royal Empire Society he was convinced that, in practice, no international agreement would survive if it was based on the belief aerial fighting can be abolished.

The Secretary for Air, speaking at the society's "Empire Air Day" dinner, dealt mainly with civil and military aviation in the empire. He mentioned that efforts to secure lasting peace by international agreement had not yet been rewarded with success, and added:

"There is no reason for abandoning our ideals; but we must maintain the safety and well-being of our homes." By the end of this year, he said, 15,000 miles of empire air routes would be in operation. He stressed the urgency of developing local feeder lines stretching to each provincial air junction.

The air, he said, was only a means, although an important one, toward the spirit of comradeship and understanding which, so often outweighs divergencies of our interest. If we are careful to preserve that spirit it will enable us to fulfill our great mission of seeking to establish security, peace and ordered progress.

The British Empire, under the King-Emperor, he added, remains the greatest power in the world in the whole history of the world.

PROGRESS OF CIVILIZATION. Ottawa, May 25.—If the peoples of the British Empire can unite their efforts with those of "our cousins on the other continent," the maintenance and progress of our civilization and the happiness and prosperity of mankind can be assured, said Premier Bennett here yesterday.

The Prime Minister, speaking in the Empire Day address, assured his listeners that "Canada will do her part."

Mr. Bennett's voice was carried to London, where a luncheon of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce marked Empire Day celebrations. He responded to a few remarks made by Sir Kingsley Wood, British Postmaster-General.

"Your voice, Sir Kingsley Wood, has come to me strong and clear," said the Prime Minister. "On behalf of the government and people of Canada, I thank you for your good wishes for the future of our Dominion, as well as for your generous expressions of approval of our co-operation in all measures that are being taken to improve the condition of our several countries."

Hands an Awful Slight with Salt Rheum. Healed by Cuticura. "My hands were red and started to swell and when I put them in water they would itch and smart. Then they were all water blisters and were an awful sight. I was told it was salt rheum. The skin was sore and red all the time and I had my hands bandaged so that I could not do anything. There would be nights that I would just lie awake and scratch. Then I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and after using one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment I was healed." ## There can be only ONE first! combining Bigness . . Performance . . Economy . . Style—and in the Low Price Field . . it's the TERRAPLANE 6

There are always two sides to an opinion. There can only be one side to a fact. If you are considering the purchase of a car—weigh these facts about the new Terraplane 6

First in BIGNESS By foot rule, yard stick or tape measure, there can be only ONE car that's BIGGEST. In the low price field today, that's Terraplane—15 ft. 10 in., bumper to bumper.

First in STYLE A car either has a tire carrier or baggage trunk in the rear—or the rear lines are clean. With clean, flowing rear body lines and a front end free of all air pockets, the Terraplane 6 is first in full advanced streamlined style.

First in PERFORMANCE The Terraplane 6 proves its performance with fact. The new Terraplane will outperform even the Terraplane 6 that broke 79 official CAA and AAA records last year.

First in POWER With 85 horsepower, the Terraplane 6 is the most powerful 6 in the low price field.

First in ECONOMY Economy is money—either in your pocket or out of your pocket. Terraplane economy is not a matter of trick test or special adjustment. It has been proved in actual owner service—by owners' sworn statements. Scores of new features . . 14 models . . 112 and 116 inch wheelbases . . 80 and 85 horsepower engines. Prices subject to change without notice.

School Wednesday morning under the auspices of the Cowichan Chapter, Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire.

All grades of the elementary school, the Duncan-High School, and Queen Margaret's School were in attendance, and marched past the flag held by the standard bearer of the chapter, Mrs. H. R. Galloway. The regent, Mrs. F. W. Galloway, addressed the assembly briefly and introduced the speaker, Admiral R. Nugent, who spoke of events in the life of Queen Victoria. Mrs. Galloway gave the cups which the chapter donated for proficiency in the school sports, to the principal.

In the afternoon the Junior chapter of the Dodswoods had a similar ceremony at the Koksilah School. Their regent, Miss Anne Staples, after a brief talk to the children, introduced the speaker, Hugh Savage.

The attack was believed a preliminary to a planned jail break, but the situation was soon brought under control.

Between January and June, 1933, England had 3,025 victims of fatal accidents on her roads; 1,381 of these were pedestrians, 520 cyclists, 514 motorists, and 410 motorists and passengers.

Submission of Mrs. T. D. Lewis to examination for discovery in her application for a maintenance order against her husband, James Lewis, was ordered to-day by Mr. Justice Murphy of the Supreme Court. J. B. Cleary, counsel for other members of the Lewis family, explained to the court that under a settlement of money made on her in 1928 Mrs. Lewis agreed to forego any further interest in the estate. Now, however, despite the settlement, she was claiming under a provision in the Testator's Family Maintenance Act. A Beckwith, counsel for Mrs. Lewis, objected to her being placed under examination by Mr. Cleary and on his advice had refused to answer questions. "I think that it is in the interests of justice that she should be examined for discovery under the Testator's Family Maintenance Act," said the judge in his decision.

The Victoria Little Theatre Association staged another of its successful musical evenings on Wednesday at the Clubrooms, a novel programme including a fan dance by Cleaver Wilson, and the ballet, Maurice Humber, Harold Gelling, Dick Bolton, and Charles Swannell, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Jack Barracough; humorous vocal numbers by the quartette, including Fraser Lister, Charles Oard, Arthur Kerrand, Maurice Humber, with H. S. Hurn at the piano. Art Kerr's hit-the-nigger-in-the-eye game proved very popular, especially with the ladies. The success of the evening reflected credit to Jack Barracough and his able committees, including refreshments, Mrs. Betty Gledes, Mrs. Doreen Downes, the Misses Sheila and Margaret Downes; ticket sales, Mrs. Maurice Green. The fans used by the dancers were the work of Miss Gladys Macdonald and Miss Gledes. Refreshments were served by Mrs. O'Neill.

Empty House Is Fully Occupied

Family Which Took Possession and Expected City to Pay Rent Must Vacate

Mrs. Ruth Farrand and her daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Coates, went on the stand before Judge Lampham to-day and told the court that unknown to them and unauthorized by them or their agents, a number of persons had moved into and taken possession of the Farrand house at 929 Harewood Road. They testified they watched the house, saw people going in, but each one apparently had his individual key, with which he opened the door to enter and then locked it from the inside after entering.

Mrs. Farrand, with D. S. Tait and W. P. Marchant as her lawyers, applied to the court to get her house back. She identified Richard Harold Callaway, his wife and family as the persons who had moved in and taken possession.

Mr. Marchant testified he had served papers individually on the six members of the family. One son he had not been able to apprehend as he was out playing golf.

Arthur Lee, agent for the Farrand property, testified he had not received or done business with Mr. Callaway, and still held the key to the house. He said he was much surprised when he went there and found it fully occupied by persons who refused to move out or pay rent.

Mr. Callaway conducted his own defence, calling the two lawyers on the other side. He argued that the rent was to be paid by the city and that Mrs. Farrand knew the house was being occupied. In support he called and examined members of his family, Mrs. Callaway, Edwin Callaway and Betty Callaway.

The judge ruled that Mrs. Farrand was entitled to possession of her house and ordered that Mr. Callaway and his family move out at once.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS PLANS ARE LARGED
League of Nations Society in Canada Suggests Separate Portfolio in Dominion Cabinet

Ottawa, May 25.—Creation of a portfolio of Minister of External Affairs, separate from the Prime Minister, and establishment of committees on external affairs in both House of Parliament was urged by the League of Nations Society in Canada at its twelfth annual meeting here to-day. Fifty-two delegates were present.

A resolution to this effect was moved by Mrs. R. P. Plumptre of Toronto and seconded by Senator Cairne Wilson of Ottawa. Miss Agnes MacPhail, M.P., said that it was Canada's duty to do anything in the League at all. She must be a minister who would attend at Ottawa.

Direct participation by Canada in international affairs by way of sanctions was suggested in a resolution introduced by Prof. F. H. Angus of Vancouver. "Canada should set a good example by recognizing the duty in certain circumstances of Canadian participation in international action by way of sanctions or otherwise which would require immediate and decisive acts by the federal government," was the resolution read.

J. S. Woodworth, M.P., was of the opinion Canadian participation should be only in economic sanctions. So far, he believed, the league's jurisdiction and effort had essentially been concerned with Europe.

Pirates Lead In Bunched Race For National League Lead

THE SPORTS MIRROR

THERE APPEARS to be a story between the lines in the announcement yesterday that Bobby Pearce would stake his world professional sculling championship against Bert Barry of England while Eric Phelps, a Putney star, pits strokes against Von Opel, the German ace, in an amateur race at the Canadian National Exhibition this summer.

Dispatches on the matter state Eric is an amateur, which would preclude any chance of his competing in the professional race unless he wished to make the switch over.

But back in the amateur days of the great Pearce, Eric and Bob used to work out with one another in England. And the Phelps family, from "Bossy" down, rather fancy the way in which Eric stacked up against the champion.

From England to Lake Ontario is a long way for an amateur competition. So when the event rolls around, keep your eye on the brothers Phelps, Ted and Eric. It is not beyond the realms of possibility one or the other may try for the professional honors Ted lost to Pearce last year.

Even while the 1933 classic was in the making, there was a strong feeling around the Thames Boat Club that Eric was the man to beat, his brother, who should have met the monarch of the sculls.

Ab Jenkins and Bill Sturm believe that Sir Malcolm Campbell's worldwide search for a racing strip that will lend itself to 300 miles an hour has ended on the flats of Great Salt Lake, 150 miles west of the city the Mormons founded.

They should know. Jenkins, renowned distance driver, has been speeding over these flats for two years. Sturm, long identified with knights of the roaring road, recently drove a seven-ton truck over a twelve-mile stretch selected for Campbell's run. Captain Campbell is to make his next assault on time on or about July 24.

On February 22, 1933, the speeding Scotsman ruffed his Bluebird II over the ten-mile stretch of sand to better his own world record with a mark of 272.108 miles an hour at Daytona Beach. On that occasion Campbell, forty-one years of age and slightly built, had just recovered from a severe attack of influenza. He had to favor his left hand, which was wrapped to the elbow with elastic bandages. He had sprained the tendons in it a week before. Yet he was disappointed. "I expected to do 285," he said, lighting a cigar and stepping from the car, "and 300 miles an hour. As things have traveled 416 miles an hour."

"The limit," said Sir Malcolm, "back at the hotel. Probably the speed of sound, which is 1,100 feet a second, twelve and one-half miles a minute, or 900 miles an hour. The limit will be reached when power becomes so tremendous that vibration literally will blow the machinery apart. Airplanes have traveled 416 miles an hour."

"Bluebird II rebuilt and revised, should exceed my record of 272.108. My life's ambition is to drive it 300 miles an hour. I expect to live to see a car do 350."

"On money, tires, course and conditions," he replied.

Sir Malcolm is an amateur. He said it cost him more than $15,000 a year to risk his neck in 1932 and '33—vastly more in the preceding years.

Betty Carstairs, the speedboat enthusiast, contributed $50,000 toward the Florida venture of 1931 in which the British "D'Artagnan" of modern times cracked the record of the late Sir Henry Seagrave by rocketing over the hard-packed ribbon of fine quartz sand at 245.733 miles an hour.

Sir Malcolm inherited a fortune as a young man, but last year he took a fancy to "go to it" like to uncover a wealthy man to back his next trip.

The three-speed Dayton-Beech had been tested at 300 miles. "That settles one problem," explained Campbell. And Jenkins relates that the sail surface on the rubber and canvas.

The Bluebird II's twelve-cylinder Rolls-Royce engine, one similar to those with which Schneider Cup seaplanes are equipped, is good enough," continued Sir Malcolm. "Greater speed will come when the streamlines are drawn to provide the least possible resistance."

No less than twenty-two coats of paint were applied to Bluebird II before the Flier of Old Albion rocketed it down the wave-packed beach last year. This was smooth, the streamlines, giving you an idea of the importance of reducing what engineers call skin friction.

But the course is paramount and, as related in the foregoing, Campbell has searched the most remote and desolate spots on the face of the earth for the perfect one. Years ago at Paros, Denmark, when he tried for the record when it was less than 150 miles an hour, a fire flew off and killed a spectator after rolling five miles like a hoop. He strained his back and contracted a headache doing 231 miles an hour over the bad patches of a course at Venedik, Pan, Cape of Good Hope. Campbell flew over the Pyrenees and Atlas Mountains to a forsaken stretch of land 300 miles north of Timbuktu on the Sahara Desert, only to find

Gain Half Game Lead By Victory And Cubs' Loss

Lavagetto's Homer Starts Bucs on Hitting Spree to 7 to 3 Victory

HUBBELL GIVES GIANTS VERDICT

The current trend of the National League race appears to be toward keeping the teams as closely bunched as possible for as long as they can hold out. Ever since the Giants met setbacks in the west that knocked them out of the lead it has been a four-club race between Chicago, Pittsburgh, St. Louis and New York.

Pittsburgh's Pirates to-day had a clear lead of a half game. Their 7 to 3 triumph over Boston Braves, coupled with New York's 7 to 1 victory over the Cubs, had wiped out the need to watch the percentages closely to see which team was ahead. Chicago had dropped to third a few percentage points behind the Cards, who trounced Brooklyn, 7 to 3.

A home run in the seventh by Harry Lavagetto, rookie infielder, provided the spark that touched off the Pittsburgh fireworks. Pittsburgh got four more tallies in the eighth. Carl Hubbell held Chicago to four singles in the smashing Giant triumph, while the New Yorkers belted Bud Tinning and Jim Weaver.

Spencers Of Victoria Beat Vancouver Store

Local Departmental Football Team Gains 6 to 1 Decision in Empire Day Game

Having an edge on the play but by no means as much of a margin as the score suggests, Spencers of Victoria defeated Vancouver in a football match at Heywood Avenue yesterday morning, 6 to 1. It was a good clean game, with plenty of fun being had by both players and spectators, of whom a small contingent was from Vancouver.

Art Chapman, versatile local athlete, netted four goals for Victoria, including one on a penalty kick, while Clarke and Brown scored one apiece. A penalty taken by Dewar resulted in Vancouver's only goal. The locals led 4 to 0 at half-time.

Victoria started off on the offensive and early in the game indicated they had an edge on the play. Brown missed what was practically a wide open goal, but shortly after Clarke poked a soft one through goalie Batters' legs to give Victoria the lead.

Vancouver had a little bit to say after this, until Art Chapman used his six-foot-two to advantage in heading the ball over the Vancouver goalie's head into the net after the latter had run out in an effort to make a save.

After this, and before the next local score, Vancouver's forwards pasted in three hot shots, two of which went over the bar. Then Brown made it 3 to 0 for Victoria from a header. Goalie Batters, who showed signs of not having found his land legs since the ocean trip from Vancouver, made a complete mull of the grounder.

Later, when the visiting fullback, Johnson, "handled" in the penalty area, Art Chapman raised the score to 4 to 0 with an untakable high shot to the corner.

Before half-time the ball was temporarily lost in a nice big patch of rose bushes and another one was rushed into service. A highlight was when a Victoria back headed over his own bar in a close shave.

For the second half, Vancouver shifted its team, centre-half Palo succeeding Batters in goal and reserve Sam coming into the full-back line. The visitors put up a real good fight and quite a few shots. When Les Bradley handled, Dewar scored Vancouver's first goal.

Here, the visiting centre, was clean through but was brought down hurt. Another snappy shot to the corner was just picked up by goalie Simpson, who played a good game throughout. Vancouver then forced two corners.

But Victoria came back strongly and Art Chapman scored with a shot which was trade-marked "goal" as soon as it left his foot. The same player netted another shot to the corner after a perfect low pass from Les Bradley. All Art had to do was to adjust the direction of the pass goalwards. This brought the score to 6 to 1, where it stayed until full time. Before the whistle, the ball again disappeared into the green depths of the rose patch.

McKinnon refereed. The teams were: Spencers, Vancouver—Battersby, Art Campbell, Johnson, Hardman, Kreis was tuning the car up preparatory to attempting to qualify this afternoon.

CUP TENNIS POSTPONED

Frank Shields and Lester Stoeft Beat Martin and Rainville in Singles

Associated Press
Wilmington, Del., May 25.—Rain to-day caused a postponement of the doubles tennis match between Canada and the United States in the first round of the American Zone play for the Davis Cup.

The doubles will be played to-morrow, weather permitting. The cup committee was undecided whether to run off the remaining singles matches to-morrow, too, or to prolong the competition until Sunday.

The Yankee Davis Cup team won Thursday's singles matches and another triumph to-morrow would make the concluding singles matches an anti-climax.

George M. Lott Jr. of Chicago and John Van Ryn of Philadelphia will represent the United States. Opposing them are Walter Martin and Marcel Rainville, defeated Thursday.

Francis X. Shields of New York defeated Martin, 6-2, 6-3, 9-7. In the clash of the two nations' number one ranking players, Lester R. Stoeft of Los Angeles accounted for Rainville in the opening encounter, 6-2, 7-5, 6-3.

Victors in the series next week-end will meet the Mexican team at Baltimore and the winners there cross the Atlantic for interzone competition.

Twisting over his veteran foe, Stoeft, twenty-three, had no trouble beating Rainville in the first set, but in the second the thirty-year-old Canadian forged ahead until he needed only a single point to win. Stoeft's great rally carried the game to deuce, won it, took the set and then ended the match.

"Stoeft had a stronger toe, although Martin seemed unable to fathom his play. The New Yorker brushed through the first two sets in convincing manner, but in the third neither player was able to break through service with telling effect.

NOT DISHEARTENED
Wilmington, Del., May 25 (Canadian Press).—Disappointed Canadian Davis Cup players who failed yesterday to win a set in either of the matches that gave United States players victories over Marcel Rainville of Montreal and Walter Martin, ranking Canadian player, were anything but disheartened yesterday evening.

"Our men both played well," P. D. Lyons, president of the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association, said. "Martin made a particularly good showing considering that it was his first Davis Cup match."

Montreal's veteran Davis Cupper, Rainville, was defeated 6-1, 7-5, 6-1 by Lester R. Stoeft of California. Martin was beaten 6-2, 6-3, 9-7 by Francis X. Shields of New York.

"We are well satisfied with the team's play," Gilbert H. Stoeft, Canadian captain, said. "Shields and Stoeft were at their best and even at that the matches were closer than the score might indicate."

Cameron Captures Outboard Honor

Young Local Driver Flashes Daring Form to Take Twenty-five-mile Headliner in Gorge Regatta Programme

Four trim little sea-fleas, with speed demons at the controls, provided the major portion of the thrills at the annual Victoria Day celebrations at the Gorge yesterday afternoon. For close to an hour they roared over the two-mile stretch, the twenty-five-mile event being won by Kermit "Cammer" Cameron who averaged approximately forty-five miles an hour. Rowing crews of the J.B. A.A. also provided a number of interesting races.

Despite the dull and threatening weather, a large number of spectators gathered to see the races. They crowded the J.B.A.A. grandstand, the banks and boat-houses, the Gorge bridge, while a large number viewed the proceedings from yachts, row-boats, canoes and improvised dug-outs. The only things lacking were Old Sol, and the Indians in their great war canoes, which used to be such a feature of May 24 regattas.

CLOSE FINISH
The most exciting race provided by the organizers of the veteran rowing organization was the one rowed by the junior fours. These two crews kept bow to bow throughout the entire course. First one would be ahead, then the other. When only about a hundred yards from the finish line the crew stroked by Gordie Scott

Oaklands, Burnside Win School Sports

Former Take Senior and P.T.A. Cups While Latter Retain Junior Trophy in City Meet

While thousands of nearly-frantic school children cheered on their favorites, young track stars of Burnside retained the junior cup, while athletes of Oaklands lifted the senior trophy from Sir James Douglas and won the Parent-Teacher Association's award in the annual city school sports at the Willows on Wednesday.

In spite of terrible track conditions the speedy young boys and girls put up exceptionally good exhibitions, although many of the races were won by wide margins. Oaklands duplicated the feat of the previous two meets in winning the tug-of-war, taking the trophy for that event for the fifth time during the six years it has been offered for competition. They won in two straight pulls from Burnside Central.

Individually the young athletes showed fine competitive spirits as they raced over the uneven surface for the honor of their schools. A margin of one point gave Oaklands the senior cup, that school having a total of twenty-five to George Jay's twenty-four in the older class. Burnside, with a total of eleven, was four points ahead of George Jay for the junior award.

Oaklands, with a total of twenty-nine in both classes, gained the P.T.A. trophy since George Jay, the leader with thirty-one, was not eligible for the award, not having a parent-teacher body. Oaklands was well ahead in the field events, scoring eleven points to Burnside's seven. George Jay was third with six.

The races were run off without a hitch, indicating the high standard of organization of the meet.

Kerries will meet the winners of the Nanaimo-MacLachlan game for the cup.

Fighting off the hard-pressing Italians, Kerrisdale slugged home two goals just before the interval, to lead 2-0 at half-time.

Hunter drove in Kerrisdale's third marker five minutes from time. Marino scored. Young Italians' lone goal a minute later.

In one half of the O. B. Allan Cup (Injured Players' Fund) double-header, MacLachlan defeated Chinese Students, 2-1, while North Shore United turned back St. Andrews by the same score in the other half.

Nanaimo, May 25.—Although they captured yesterday afternoon's soccer fixture by a 4 to 3 score, New Westminster Royals lost the round to Nanaimo City in the two-game series played as a part of the holiday celebrations, by 8 to 6, having dropped the opening match, 5-2. The Royals played good football before a large crowd, and led at the turnover, 2-1. Waterhorn and Turner garnered two goals each for the visitors and Daisy Wauden performed the "hat trick" for the home side.

BRITAIN'S LATEST TENNIS FIND

C. E. Hare, brilliant young left-handed player from Birmingham, is hailed by the experts as a coming champion. He defeated Fred Perry, Britain's number one player, in the semi-finals of one of the county championships, and Andre Merill, France's hope, fell before Hare's strategy in the British hard court championships.

M'Larnin Planning Pounding Attack

Vancouver Welter King Figuring on Backing Ross Into Corner and Unloosing Dynamic Fists

By Edward J. Neil, Associated Press Sports Writer
Atlantic City, N.J., May 25.—While one half of boxing's most colorful combination, old "Pop" Foster, mumbles of trickery and deep, dark plots, the other half, soft-voiced Jimmy M'Larnin, placidly winds up this business of preparing to bring sudden unconsciousness down upon another aspiring young ringman.

Jimmy is certain he will tag out youthful Barney Ross, the lightweight champion, in Madison Square Garden's bowl on Long Island Monday night. You can't get the Vancouver leather hurricane to make a positive statement to that effect, Jimmy being most quiet and reserved. But there is confidence in every line of his perfectly trained fighting figure.

WITH BOTH HANDS
"All I know about Ross," Jimmy says, "is what I've gathered from the motion pictures of his second victory over Tony Canzoneri. He's a fast boxer. I've always found that the best way to beat that type was to crowd them into a corner, where speed doesn't count, and let them have it with both hands. It works a very large part of the time."

It worked with Al Singer, Ruby Goldstein, Benny Leonard, Louis Kid Kaplan, Sid Terris, Joe Glick, Joey Sangor and Jackie Fields, to mention some of the famous Jewish fighters who tackled the McLarnin problem before Ross and wound up, prone, blinking dizzily into the ring lights overhead.

WEIGHT ADVANTAGE
McLarnin probably will have a weight advantage of some ten pounds when he climbs into the ring for the second meeting in history between the reigning champions of the lightweight and welterweight realms. He has to make 145 pounds, by private agreement, at noon Monday or forfeit $10,000. He is down to 145½ today. But he will be at least 148 and possibly 149 by ringtime.

Ross, a natural lightweight, is not expected to scale over 138 pounds at the weighing in Monday and may be as low as 136. He will gain but a few ounces before ringtime.

Poster, a grizzled sixty-year-old veteran of bare knuckles days, is satisfied that Jimmy's lay off of a year has not hurt his fighting ability.

FEARS TRICKERY
"He has never boxed better," he said. "He may not be as fast as he once was but makes up for that with harder hitting, and he's smarter, steadier, more mature. But I think Ross is planning some trickery with the gloves. I'm afraid he might get a nervous referee in there who'll stop the fighting if someone gets cut a little. I don't like the look of things."

Samuel McLarnin, the father of King James, is scheduled to reach the big town the day before the fight.

VINES BEATS HENRI COCHET
New York, May 25.—Two former rulers of amateur tennis took another step forward in the eastern professional tennis championship yesterday when Bill Tilden and Ellsworth Vines Jr. turned back the bid of two French stars in the first of a six-match round-robin series among the four semi-finalists.

The crowd of 2,000 at the fashionable Park Avenue club saw Tilden best back the challenge of Martin Pilsner, 4-6, 6-4, 6-3, and Vines bested Vines take three straight sets from his rival of amateur days, Henri Cochet. The scores were 6-3, 6-4, 6-3.

Addison, Cunningham Star In Track Meet

Victorians Lead Assault on Valley Records at Big Kelowna Sports

Kelowna, B.C., May 25.—Founding feet of young Joe Addison, pride of Victoria's track circles, and the smooth striding legs of Chuck Cunningham, his V.M.C.A. team-mate, carried that pair to double victories and valley records in the athletic meet staged here yesterday.

In all thirteen valley marks fell before the onslaughts of picked cinder and field stars of the province.

The two flashy-Victoria stars and Allan Poole of Kelowna, walked off with the day's honors, with double victories. The stocky-built Addison, who aged to a new native mark in the 440 yards at the Caledonian games at Vancouver last year, easily won the final in that distance yesterday in 41.5 seconds, 1.5 seconds slower than the time he set last year.

Coming back in the high hurdles, the blonde Victorian made it a double when he finished ahead of a select field in 16.1-5 seconds. Both marks were new valley records.

Chuck Cunningham set up a new valley record for the mile event when he finished first in a field of six. His time was 4:40.

GOOD HALF MILE
The Victoria distance star added to his laurels when he captured the half mile event in 2:00.9 for another valley record.

Poole, Kelowna's sprint ace, flashed to victory in the 100 and 220-yard events over select fields, which included Stan Barrett and Vincent Forbes, crack Vancouver dash men. Poole made the 100-yard dash in 19 seconds flat and the longer distances in 22.3-5 seconds.

Jack Harrison of Vancouver won the shot put with a heave of 42 feet 11 inches.

Following the events English rugby was revived here after a lapse of fourteen years when B.C. Dragons and Kelowna Famous Players played to a 3 to 3 tie.

GOOD BOWLING ON EMPIRE DAY
A competition under the "Pennant" system featured the Empire Day triples tournament at the Burnside Lawn Bowling Club yesterday. Every team in a section played every other team in its own section.

Results follow:
Section 1, D. Mowat, Mrs. J. Hancock and J. Hancock (skip) won three and drew one; section 2, Mrs. F. A. Baker and W. Wallace (skip) won five and lost none; section 3, Mrs. Deveson, W. Gibson and T. Deveson (skip) won three and lost two. To determine the winning team of the competition, and incidentally those entitled to hold the Empire Day Cup for the ensuing year, these three teams will play against each other next Tuesday evening at Burnside.

The annual King's Birthday doubles will be held June 4. This all-day competition is open to any self-selected pair from any Greater Victoria club and is limited to the first

Ban Is Placed On Panama Al Brown
Associated Press
Paris, May 25.—Al Brown, Panama negro who is recognized in some quarters as world's bantamweight champion, yesterday had been suspended in France and its colonies until September 1 and fined 1,000 francs by the council of the French Boxing Federation as a result of his disqualification in his bout with Gustav Hurnery last Thursday.

Brown was disqualified for holding in the sixth round after twice being warned.

STOCKERS MEET TAIYOS TO-NIGHT
Taiyos and Stockers will battle in a Twilight League baseball fixture at Athletic Park to-night, commencing at 7:30 o'clock. Batteries will probably be: Taiyos—Ashikawa or Harry Holmes and M. Kurehara; Stockers—Bill Holmes and Wally Scott. Stockers played under the name of Rosebuds last year, and have a strong team lined up.

horse Winooka ran next to last among the nine starters in the $2,500 added Washington Park Handicap, inaugurated feature at the Homewood course here yesterday. Inish E. Trotter's four-year-old, won the handicap, with some Pomp second and Advising Anna third over the strutting course.

Look Before You Leap!

Finda Old Admiring Worry

THERE are a lot of queer things about marriage, but the queerest of them all is that so many men and women seem incapable of finding out anything whatsoever about the character, mental calibre, disposition, habits and manners of those they marry until after the knot is tied. This is the more strange because not one man and woman in a million are conscious deceivers. They do not deliberately set out to take in some poor, unsuspecting girl or boy by camouflaging their defects, or pretending to virtues that they do not possess. Nor could they put across such a confidence game if they would, for the average individual is a poor actor who could not give a convincing performance of any one but himself.

Such as they are, with their every peculiarity and blemish and shortcoming emblazoned upon them for all to see, there they stand for men and women to take or leave them, and the amazing thing is that so many people never seem to have the faintest idea what they have picked out until they take their bargain home and look it over.

And, wonder upon wonder, these buyers of matrimonial pigs in a poke are not the Simple Simons one might suppose them to be. They are clever, sophisticated men and women of the world who bite their tongues to see if they are counterfeited, and who are keen enough to see that the goods are as represented in any other transaction, and that they are getting their money's worth.

Yet the common complaint of disgruntled husbands and wives is that they are "disappointed" in their mates. The man does not get all the kind of wife the man wants. The man does not come up to the wife's ideal in a single point. Each outrages the tastes and the ideals of the other. They grate upon each other's nerves intolerably.

And the question arises, why, oh why, did they not discover this before marriage, since people seldom marry at first sight and without having an opportunity to get acquainted with each other? Most engagements last anywhere from a couple of months to five or six years, and it does seem that one would not have to be a Sherlock Holmes in order to ascertain in that length of time whether the party of the other part had any objectionable traits that would make marriage a hazardous experiment.

Nothing for instance, wrecks so many marriages as uncongeniality. Indeed, incompatibility of temper is recognized by law as a just cause for divorce. All of us know husbands and wives who never agree on anything, who never want to do the same thing, and who have not a single taste in common.

It is perfectly understandable why two people of different sexes, different heredity, brought up in a different environment can have little in common, but what is incomprehensible is that they do not find this out before marriage. Now can a domestic stay-at-home man, for instance, think that he can have a Darby and Joan existence with a girl who always comes down with her hat on when he calls and asks "where do we dine and dance?" even before she bids him good evening, and whose whole idea of happiness is making whoopee and going on wild parties?

How can the saving, penny-pinching man delude himself into thinking he is getting a helpmeet who will see eye to eye with him about running up a savings bank account in a girl who is clothes-mad and pleasure-mad, and who thinks that money was made to be thrown at the birds? Why does a man not suspect that the high-tempered girl with whom he is always having rows may possibly not make the placid and peaceful life companion he desires?

What makes the warm-hearted, affectionate girl marry a human refrigerator? Why does the domestic girl pick out a rounder for a husband? Why does Alice-sit-by-the-fire choose a man who must always be stepping out and going places and doing things? Why does the girl who hates games unite herself to a golf fiend?

None of these things were hidden. Everybody knew that Sally was a dancing fool, and Mary extravagant, and Fanny a waster, and John was a clam, and Tom a philanthropist, and Sam's mind never got a yard from the links. And there was no excuse for those who married them being disappointed in a husband or wife whose salient characteristics they must have perceived unless they were phenomenally stupid.

Then there are the husbands and wives whose suit for seeking companionship outside of the home is that they are so bored in it. The husbands and wives do not understand them. They have not the same interests. A highly educated, brilliant man marries a little nitwit who never read a book in her life, and he complains that her babble drives him to drink. No doubt. But the mystery is why he did not find this out before he chose her as a life companion. No woman on earth can conceal the fact that she is a Dumb Dora. Her ignorance and dullness stick out like a sore thumb.

A woman waits out that her husband wears her beyond all endurance. He has no interest beyond the greengrocery trade and the stock market. He never reads anything but the headlines in the newspapers and the comic strips. His tastes are all lowbrow, while hers are highbrow.

But why did she not discover this before she doomed herself to a lifetime of listening to the price of potatoes and going to jazz shows? For a man does not go suddenly dull company. He does not stop reading good literature if he has ever read it. He does not lose interest in world movements if he has ever had a broad vision. Any girl with enough sense to keep out of the fire can tell just about how exciting a husband a man will make from the line the boy friend carries.

Apparently before marriage men and women are blind to each other's characteristics. It is only marriage that proves an eye-opener to them. DOROTHY DIX. Copyright by Public Ledger Inc.

Uncle Wiggly's Red Berries

By HOWARD R. GARIS

April showers not only bring May flowers, but they sometimes make berry bushes blossom, too. There are blossoms on the bushes the next thing that happens is a good luck. It is that berries appear. Mrs. Longears, the rabbit lady wife of Uncle Wiggly, was very fond of raspberries, blackberries, and checkerberries. Not that she played checkers with the last sort of berries, though she could if she wanted to. "But best of all," she said to her husband one day, "I like blackberries. Do you think, Wiggly, she asked, 'that when you are out adventuring to-day you might find me some early blackberries?' " "Well, I can remember," said Uncle Wiggly, "before I have something to eat, I'll eat some of my red berries. Then I'll eat you!" howled the Bob Cat. He took a large mouthful of the red berries from the basket and then a surprised look came over his face. "Oh, wahl deraw! Phaw! Whew! Bob! Bob! How the Red Chap and his mouth was puckered up as small and so little by the sour berries that Uncle Wiggly hopped safely home and told his adventure. But Nurse Jane and his wife said to throw the rest of the red berries away and wait until he could pick some ripe black ones next week. So it all happened for the best. And if the schoolboy will give a bunch wagon a piece of bread to make a potato sandwich for the milkman's horse, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggly and Nanny's box. (Copyright, 1934, by H. R. Garis)

VETERANS AID DISARMAMENT

Associated Press. Paris, May 25.—Three million French war veterans are exerting all the political pressure at their command to "save the Disarmament Conference." In a manifesto the National Federation of Veterans roundly denounced the private munitions industry. Governmental leaders were told not to use Germany's rearmament ambitions as an excuse to strengthen the "defence" of France. The organization also condemned "madness" arising out of the Saar problem as a menace to peace.
